Danger of Epidemic Said

—Place Deaths at 1000

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 2.—(UP)—The destruction of Managua, shaken into ruins by two days of intermittent earthquakes which continued sharply last night, was revealed today as so complete that the city may be abandoned permanently.

President General Jose Maria Moncada announced that plans are being considered by the cabinet for evacuation of Managua and removal of the national capital to Granada or Leon, rather than face the colossal task of rebuilding the city. He said a definite decision would be made in the next few weeks.

Meanwhile, the work of relief, the great task of removal and burial of the dead and the problem of providing food and medicinal attention for the wounded continued under supervision of the United States marine force which has been on almost continuous duty since the first quake. Thousands of persons already have left the desolate ruins of the capital, which is a scattered mass of burned and crumbled buildings along the shore of Lake Managua. 3-YEAR CONTRACT FOR S. F. PRODIGY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—(UP)—Yehudi Menuhin, San Francisco violin prodigy, has signed a three-year contract that will take him into China, Japan, India, South Africa and other countries seldom reached by concert players, it was learned today.

The contract also provides for his appearance with 12 famous orchestras, in Rome, Berlin, Paris, London, Dresden, Vienna, Budapest and other European cities. The boy returned this week from a tour of Europe.

Girl Southpaw Fans Babe Ruth And Lou Gehrig

ENGEL STADIUM, CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 2.—(UP)—Jackie Mitchell, 17-year-old girl pitcher, struck out Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in the first inning of today's exhibition game between the Chattanooga Lookouts and the New York Yankees.

The feminine southpaw had the satisfaction of seeing the two sluggers—either through courtesy to her sex, or bafflement at the curve—swing wildly at space as her pitches shot over or near the plate.

$220,000,000 WILL BE SPENT IN CALIFORNIA

Senator Shortridge Tells of Government Plans For This Year

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—(UP)—The federal government will spend nearly $220,000,000 in California this year, United States Senator Samuel M. Shortridge said today upon his return from Washington to his law offices here.

"That ought to help the economic situation in California," he said.

"The exact amount is $219,921,201. It will flow into the state for maintenance of governmental departments and personnel and for new building and enterprise."

Senator Shortridge also disclosed that a new federal drive would soon be centered along the Mexican border in Southern California to cut down smuggling of narcotics, immigrants and other contraband.

"Commissioner of Customs F. H. Elbe will be here about 10 days from now in that connection," Shortridge said. "He will spend about $105,000 in the work."

The $219,921,201 to be spent by the government in California is made up in part from the following appropriations, Shortridge said:

Labor department, $968,956; interior, $2,535,565; state, $23,200; commerce, $1,880,000; navy, between $30,000,000 and $35,000,000; war, $61,474,661; postoffice, $27,913,400; veterans' administration, $39,690,000; and agriculture, $15,225,417.

"Out of this money, for instance," he said, "new post offices or additions are to be built in San Francisco, Alameda, Vallejo, San Jose, Napa, Petaluma, Monterey, Marysville, Ventura, Visalia, Redlands, San Diego, Porterville, Glendale, Beverly Hills, Los Angeles, and special buildings at Riverside and Yosemite."

In addition, according to the senator, the expenditures will include those for reclamation, highway construction, flood control, improvement of rivers and harbors, and the making of forest roads and trails.

Seek Appointment Of Los Gatos Man As Superior Judge

SACRAMENTO, April 2.—(UP)—Governor Rolph today had under consideration a petition signed by 80 Santa Clara county attorneys seeking the appointment of Desmond T. Jenkins, Los Gatos attorney, to the superior bench in San Jose.

Jenkins is backed for the position left vacant by the death of Judge J. R. Welch in San Jose last week.

Court Grants Plea in Paris
On Grounds Prince
Deserted Wife

PARIS, April 2.—(UP)—Pola Negri, film actress, was divorced today in the Seine tribunal from the second of her titled husbands, Prince Serge Mdivani.

The divorce was granted on the grounds that the prince had abandoned his wife.

Only a little over a year ago, when the pair became reconciled in the same court after Pola's first attempt to break the marriage bond the actress likened herself and her prince to cooing doves. The courtroom was no pigeon loft during the divorce hearing as opposing lawyers grew bitter.

Miss Negri told the United Press that "Mary McCormick had nothing to do with this divorce." Miss McCormick was reported at one time ready to marry Prince Serge after his divorce from Pola.

Miss Negri gets no alimony by the written decision of the court today. They were married under a law which permitted the division of properties, so she retains the fortune and properties possessed when she went with her prince to the marriage bureau.

Paris expected that Pola would return to film work in Hollywood, as under French law her husband's opposition had been sufficient to keep her from fulfilling film contracts.

"I am happy and I am sad," Pola said during the divorce hearing. "It hurts inside when a romance into which you have put your whole heart goes wrong, but when marriage interferes with my work there is nothing to do but dissolve the marriage."

"There was just too much difference in our temperaments. Besides, an actress is really married first of all to her art and there is no divorce from that."

Despite Pola's statement that Mary McCormick had nothing to do with the divorce, Paris believed today that there would be a new Princess Mdivani before long, that she would be an opera singer, and that her name would be Mary.

"I hope I shall always remain a good friend of Serge just as I am a friend of the Polish nobleman to whom my mother married me when I was 17," Miss Negri said.

Rich Vein Of Gold Found In Old Mine

WICKENBURG, Ariz., April 2.—(UP)—A vein of gold ore, which produced $15,000,000 before being "lost" due to faults in the earth's formation, was struck again today at the old Vulture gold mine near here, D. R. Finlayson, manager of the Vulture Mining company, announced.

It is estimated that the deposit now ready for mining is three times as large as the original Vulture lode.

In its days the old Vulture mine was one of the west's most sensational producers. For years it operated in high grade ore, using the rock bearing a small quantity of gold for building material.

Fall On Stanford Golf Links Breaks S. A. Girl's Leg

Falling heavily after stepping into a hidden chuckhole, Miss Thelma Patton, well known Santa Ana school teacher, suffered a broken leg while playing golf on the Stanford university course yesterday. She is confined at the Peninsula hospital, Palo Alto.

Miss Patton is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Patton, 1603 French street. Dr. Patton is a member of the board of education.

Miss Patton, an instructor at Fremont school, was spending her spring vacation at Stanford with Miss Helen Kirkland, 1302 North Broadway, a teacher at Santa Ana High school.

Although both bones in Miss Patton's leg were broken just above the ankle, she is recovering rapidly, according to word received by her parents. Miss Patton will be able to return home Saturday. It is believed.

GIANT YOUTH MUST SUBMIT TO TREATMENT

Judge Orders 235 Pound,
14 Year Old Lad to Take
Gland Injections

LOS ANGELES, April 2.—(UP)—Adolphe Roome, 14-year-old boy who weighs 235 pounds, must submit to pituitary gland treatments in an effort to halt his unusual growth.

In deciding the unusual case, Superior Judge Lester Roth, one of the youngest jurists in California, ruled in favor of the youth's father, Dr. Adolphe E. Roome sr., who sought the treatments "in order that the boy may enjoy a normal life."

The boy, more than six feet tall, and his mother, Mrs. Helen Roome, divorced from the physician-father, opposed the gland treatments during the court hearing last week.

The boy feared the treatments would affect his brain.

"I would rather be a physical giant, even a monstrosity as some of the doctors have suggested than an idiot or an imbecile," Adolphe told the judge while he was on the witness stand.

The mother said her chief objection was based upon the fact that Adolphe did not want to take the treatments.

The boy declared that he took a "test shot" a few months ago and that his "brain was dulled" for several days.

Adolphe is a student in a Los Angeles junior high school and is rated near the head of his class in scholarship.

Judge Roth ruled that the father should have complete medical control and supervision over the youth.

Under a divorce decree in 1926, Adolphe was awarded to his mother, with the father, a former police surgeon, given the right to see the child at all reasonable times.

The decision today upheld the father's right to visit his son and in addition gave Roome sr. the right to proceed, in his best judgment, with medical treatment he believed necessary to halt the boy's abnormal growth.

GUNBOAT SEARCHES FOR MISSING YACHT

HAVANA, April 2.—(UP)—The yacht Cynosure, lost during the Havana-St. Petersburg races which began a week ago today, has been located off Key West, according to word received here today by Mrs. Didge Gandy, wife of the skipper, Commodore Gandy.

All the men aboard the Cynosure were from St. Petersburg.

The gunboat Cuba was ordered to search for the yacht yesterday.

REGISTER WILL PUBLISH PETER B. KYNE NOVEL

On Monday, April 6, The Register will publish the first installment of a new serial story—"Golden Dawn," one of the greatest stories ever written by Peter B. Kyne.

"Golden Dawn," like all of Peter B. Kyne's stories, has the characteristic of appealing simplicity, and the human quality which endears a writer to his readers. Perhaps that is because Kyne had behind him a long and variegated experience of life before he ever turned his hand to authorship.

The story has love and mystery, humor, suspense, surprise—and above all, action.

Watch for the first installment in next Monday's Register.

Witnesses Tell Story At Inquest

Jury Finds Eight Died As Result of Accident—
No One Is Blamed

COTTONWOOD FALLS, Kas., April 2.—(UP)—The crash of a tri-motored Fokker airplane which plunged Knute K. Rockne and seven other men to their deaths was listed definitely today among the unexplained tragedies of aviation.

Several theories of the cause were written in the records of the coroner's inquest, but the verdict said only that the victims came to death in an accident of undetermined cause.

Relatives were expected here today to claim the bodies of five of the crash victims. The body of Rockne had been taken to South Bend, Ind., where he coached the Notre Dame football team. The other two bodies also had been claimed for burial.

The coroner's jury yesterday heard eyewitness accounts of the crash and expert opinions of aviators and others who sought to throw light on the events immediately preceding the plummet-like dive of the big plane into a pasture near Bazaar, Kas.

Barton Stevenson, Kansas City aviator, advanced the theory of the cause which the jury considered most plausible.

He believed Pilot Robert Frye was cruising through murky clouds and as the visibility decreased, decided to return to Kansas City. Frye brought the huge Transcontinental and Western craft down through the clouds to get his bearings, in Stevenson's opinion, and suddenly found himself near the ground.

Frye jerked his controls, according to the theory, and the strain snapped the right wing from the airplane, to leave it plunging helplessly to earth.

The victims were Rockne, Frye, W. B. Miller, Hartford, Conn.; J. H. Happer, Chicago; C. A. Roberts, Wheeling, W. Va.; H. J. Christen, Chicago; Spencer Goldthwaite, New York; and Jess Mathias, co-pilot, Kansas City.

Four ranch hands who saw the crash testified.

They heard the plane above the clouds, the motors sputtering. Headed straight down, it broke through the rifts at a tremendous rate of speed and struck the earth with a terrific crash. Then the severed wing floated down, a quarter of a mile from the wreckage.

Leonard Jurden, Kansas City, department of commerce inspector, told the jury he had every confidence in Frye as a pilot, and from personal acquaintance was convinced he was fully competent.

J. A. Collings, assistant superintendent of the eastern division of the Transcontinental company, told the jury he had never known of another such case of a wing breaking from an airplane.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, April 2.—[To the Editor of The Register:] It's very seldom you find any good that comes out of the war, but was talking to one of California's sanest and most conservative business men, Mr. Robert G. Gillis. He remarked: "The only investment that has proven sound during all this mess is the Liberty bond." So the old three-minute speaker was telling the truth and didn't know it. But the tough part about it is, everybody lost theirs by having to put 'em up as margins on things that was supposed to be sound. During the Coolidge cuckoo days they were considered the lowest form of investment. When you look back on things now you wonder why everyone in America escaped the insane asylum during that time.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

WHEAT PARLEY IN ROME ENDS THIS EVENING

Financing of Short Term
Loans to Farmers Is Given Approval

ROME, April 2.—(UP)—The international wheat conference closing with a plenary session today approved financing short term loans to farmers, increasing the consumption of wheat, and calling a meeting of representatives of exporting countries to further consider disposition of the world wheat surplus.

The Soviet delegation abstained from voting on the short term credit resolution and opposed other recommendations.

The meeting of the exporting countries will begin at London May 18.

The conference heard reports of three committees delegated to study consumption and organization of trade in cereals, agricultural credits and preferential tariffs.

The proposal to advance cash loans to farmers was considered the most practical step for the relief of the world wheat crises. The conference recommended that short term loans be guaranteed by mortgages on farms, buildings, livestock, as well as security advanced by respective governments.

The conference opposed the reduction of wheat acreage by direct methods, saying that reduction might be obtained by indirect methods and persuasion.

"It is impossible for European countries to renounce the cultivation of wheat and it is impossible to force farmers to reduce their wheat acreage by direct methods," a report approved by the conference said.

Flier Dies When Airplane Crashes; Companion Safe

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., April 2.—(UP)—A 44 ft. of wind which threw his plane out of control brought death to Harry C. Miller, attorney, late yesterday, while his companion, Richard F. Harden, designer of the light ship, was thrown out and floated to safety with his parachute.

Miller, Harden said, apparently attempted to "ball out" when the plane nosed to the ground out of control, but his parachute caught in the tail of the ship and he was dragged to earth.

ACT CONSTITUTIONAL

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—(UP)—The Tulare county superior court was under orders of the state supreme court today to proceed with prosecution of Irwin L. Perry, charged with violating the California deciduous fruit buyers' act.

The act, which Perry sought to hold unconstitutional, was passed by the state legislature in 1929 to enable the prosecution of "cash buyers" of deciduous fruit, particularly grapes, who refused to make payment when delivery was made.

HIGH COURT GRANTS PLEA OF MAGNATE

Supreme Body of State in Decision Says Errors
Committed During Trial

TWO SUITS PENDING

Indications Are That Theater Man Will Be Retried Within Few Weeks

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—(UP)—The state supreme court today granted Alexander Pantages, multimillionaire Los Angeles theater magnate, a new trial on the charge that he assaulted 17-year-old Eunice Pringle, co-ed dancer.

The high court found that errors committed in the Los Angeles trial court where Pantages was convicted on October 27, 1929, were important enough to warrant a retrial.

The vote of the justices was five to two for a new trial.

Those holding with the majority opinion were Chief Justice William H. Waste and Justices John E. Richards, John W. Shenk, William H. Langdon and John W. Preston.

Two Dissent

Those dissenting were Justices Emmett Seawell and Jesse W. Curtis.

The majority opinion said that the five supreme court justices "agreed in the main with the opinion written by Mr. Justice Houser of the appellate court." The appellate court previously had ruled to give Pantages a new trial.

Justices Curtis and Seawell dissented "without comment."

This victory for Pantages climaxed a fight he started immediately after a Los Angeles jury announced its guilty verdict and Superior Judge Charles E. Fricke ordered the millionaire to San Quentin prison for from one to 50 years.

Attorneys for Pantages asked Judge Fricke for a new trial then but the jurist denied the motion which was based on the ground that the state prosecutors were guilty of prejudicial conduct and

2 EL PASO DAILY PAPERS IN MERGER

EL PASO, Tex., April 2.—(UP)—The El Paso Evening Post, one of the younger members of the Scripps-Howard group of newspapers, today announced the purchase of its evening competitor, the El Paso Herald, from the Lindsay Nunn company. Beginning tomorrow, the merged papers will be published as the El Paso Herald-Post.

Simultaneously, Dorrance D. Rodrick, who has held the title of resident publisher, bought the Morning and Sunday Times from his associates.

The negotiations were opened six months ago by Gene Howe, famous editor of the Amarillo, Tex., Globe-News, on behalf of the Lindsay Nunn company at a conference in New York with W. W. Hawkins, general manager of the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

GUARDS ATTACKED BY TWO CONVICTS

JOLIET, Ill., April 2.—(UP)—Unrest in the Joliet prison flared up momentarily today in an attack by two prisoners upon a guard who was beaten before he was rescued.

The guard, Edward Keegan, was set upon by the convicts when he ordered them to work in the west wing cell block of the old prison. Another guard, whose name was not learned, also was attacked by the prisoners when he attempted to defend Keegan. Several additional guards were required to come to the scene and place them in solitary confinement. The convicts' names were not revealed.

Warden Henry C. Hill revealed after the attack that 20 convicts from the west wing cell block had been locked in solitary confinement as punishment for yelling for privileges denied them after recent riots in the penitentiary here and at Stateville.

and on foot, the refugees have sought safety and food in the countryside and in other Nicaraguan cities. The American refugees here will be removed by plane and otherwise as rapidly as possible.

The fire which swept back and forth across the city on changing winds was believed under control, although it still smoldered in some sections of the debris and might revive with a fresh wind. The efficient work of the marines and the national guard in the devastated city, and the speed with which neighboring countries and the United States sent relief planes and ships to Nicaragua, was believed to have halted the danger of an epidemic for the moment, although the problem of disposing of the dead remained acute.

The death toll continued indefinitely, although national guard officials said approximately 400 unidentified bodies had been buried and the estimates of total dead still ranged as high as 1000.

Fresh earth shocks at 10:10 o'clock last night again endangered the rescue workers in the streets of the city and two members of the national guard were reported killed when a wall collapsed. The body of an American marine also was reported found in the ruins of the Lupone hotel.

"The publishers of Liberty," said their statement, "have sold that weekly to MacFadden Publications, Inc. MacFadden Publications, Inc. has sold the Detroit Daily, a tabloid newspaper, to Mr. DeWitt's client."

"Mr. DeWitt stated that the new owners of the Detroit Daily intend to publish the newspaper along the lines which have given the 'News', also published by them, the largest circulation of any newspaper in the United States."

"Mr. Schultz stated that his clients will continue the identical editorial policies of Liberty which have given it the largest single copy sale of any magazine in the country."

"The new owners of the respective publication assume control as of April 1, 1931."

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States
NORTHAMPTON, April 2.—The reported decision from Washington not to call an extra session of the congress to relieve the farmer and redress unemployment will impress the country as sound. When the last congress assembled in the early spring of 1928 the farmer was in a fair condition and unemployment was not a pressing question. The longer the congress was in session the worse the condition of the farmer became and the larger grew the list of the unemployed. While it is not possible to say that conditions were not improved by legislation it is apparent they were not cured. A large prospective treasury deficit has not proven a sovereign remedy.

Business will also gain some courage from the report that by curbing expenses a further increase of taxes may be avoided. But what is especially cheering is the suggestion that politics is not to agitate the country. Now that the Democrats have taken and passed a straw vote there seems no reason for present disturbance in either party.

No extra congress, no extra taxes, and no extra politics make the wisest proposals for relief that have yet been announced.

HIGH COURT GRANTS PLEA OF MAGNATE

that Judge Fricke erred in refusing the defense permission to introduce evidence bearing on the character of Miss Pringle.

Ruling Upheld
Pantages carried the case to the court of appeals which ruled he should have a new trial. Today's decision by the supreme court upheld that ruling.

Pantages probably will be retried at once in Los Angeles. Meanwhile there is pending against him the $1,000,000 damage suit that Miss Pringle filed after his conviction.

The theater man faces another legal action in San Diego where it is charged that he was a client of a syndicate which furnished young girl companions for wealthy men. His preliminary hearing on this charge is set for next month.

When Pantages is tried again on the charge that he assaulted Miss Pringle there will be a repetition of the sensational court scenes in which the 17-year-old girl, formerly of the University of Southern California, accused one of the coast's richest men and in which the theaterman denounced the accuser.

Both Pantages and Miss Pringle, the only persons who really know what happened when they met in his conference room on the afternoon of August 9, 1928, testified at his first trial and probably will testify again.

Miss Pringle, with tears coming often to her eyes, related to the jury a story of how she went to Pantages' office, expecting a favorable answer on her request that Pantages put her play on his vaudeville circuit.

Chief Justice Waste, in his written opinion, agreeing with the majority vote held that Miss Pringle's testimony was "so improbable as to challenge one's credulity." He also found that the prosecution was conducted unfairly.

His concurring opinion read: "I concur in the judgment of reversal because of the intemperate atmosphere in which the case was tried."

"Prosecution no doubt favored under the stress of public opinion and excitement, at times confronted with considerable provocation; but the testimony of the prosecutrix (Eunice Pringle) was so improbable as to challenge one's credulity, and the jury should have been permitted to consider the evidence uninfluenced by the incidents and errors discussed in the main opinion." The opinion referred to was given by Justice Houser of the district court.

"At the same time, I desire to emphasize the assertion in the opinion of the district court in which it is held that the instances of this conduct of the district attorney (Buron Fitts), would not standing alone, necessarily require a reversal."

Salient points in the district court's decision adopted by the supreme court follow in part:

1.—The reversal was ordered on grounds unconnected with Pantages' guilt or innocence. Justice Houser wrote:

" . . . in that regard it may suffice to state that after careful consideration of the evidence, even viewed in the light as presented by appellant, this court is of the opinion that the contention as to legal insufficiency cannot prevail (Pantages had appealed that the evidence was insufficient to support the verdict.)

2.—The district court upheld Pantages' contention that "apparent prejudicial effect" of Fitts' closing address. The court took especial notice of Fitts' address to the jury charging that defense counsel had failed to prove the insinuation of its opening address. The court held that (A) failure to prove the opening exposition had been largely caused by Fitts' objections, and the court's approval and (B) opening address is not evidence and the failure to sustain its points does not provide material for proper prosecution rebuttal.

Buron Fitts Has Nothing to Say

LOS ANGELES, April 2.—(UP)—District Attorney Buron Fitts when informed of the decision of the supreme court granting Alexander Pantages a new trial said: "I have no statement to make in the matter of Pantages until I have had the opportunity of reading and thoroughly digesting the decision of the supreme court." Fitts sent to the Los Angeles office of the supreme court for a copy of the decision. He refused to say when his office will reach a decision on whether or not a retrial of Pantages will be sought.

Miss Pringle Is "Badly Shocked"

Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer and alleged victim of an attack by Alexander Pantages, theater magnate, said she was "shocked and felt badly" today when she learned at her home in Garden Grove that the state supreme court had granted Pantages a new trial on his conviction.

"But it will do him no good," the girl told the United Press. "I am sure he will be convicted again."

Miss Pringle said she dreaded the ordeal of another courtroom battle but "was perfectly willing to go through it all over again, not only for myself but for other girls."

Asked what she thought of the statement of Pantages' attorney that he had "new and startling evidence" for the next trial, the girl said:

"That almost makes me laugh. They were always attacking my character, always finding new witnesses but it never amounted to anything."

The girl said that her plans were dependent upon those of District Attorney Buron Fitts. Her pending $1,000,000 damage suit against Pantages will not be affected by today's ruling, she declared.

Miss Pringle who had just arrived at her home for the noon hour from the Garden Grove high school when she learned of the decision. "He's guilty and everybody knows it. He's guilty regardless of any technicalities."

"The trouble is the ruling of the supreme court automatically becomes the law of the state—and it takes away protection from young girls," she said. "I feel very, very badly over it."

"I was fighting not for myself but for justice," the dancer declared vehemently, "and all the other girls in the same circumstances."

"It's a shame to waste the taxpayers' money over a new trial."

Closed Bank To Have Money After Depositors Paid

FRESNO, April 2.—(UP)—The First National bank in Fresno, which closed its doors here last July after heavy withdrawals, will pay its depositors 100 per cent and have nearly $700,000 excess assets.

That appeared the gist of a statement of the bank's affairs posted by Receiver H. F. Schilling yesterday.

Nieves is asserted to have driven his car across several intersections at various times in a reckless manner. He is the first to go to jail for the offense here in several months.

FOURTH & BROADWAY

SAYS ECONOMY VITAL FACTOR AT ELECTION

Economy in the expenditure of tax money, proper business management, and consideration of the wishes of the people regarding improvements and other public affairs will be uppermost in the minds of Santa Ana voters when they go to the polls on April 13, according to Wayne Goble, publicity director of the Good Government and Economy League. He bases this statement, he said, upon the widespread response of the public to the principles as announced by the league and which he said also coincide with the ideas of most of the voters.

"By mail, telephone, and personal calls we have received many pledges of support for our effort on behalf of better government and tax economy," Goble said, "and there is an apparent revolt against increasing taxes, and increased assessments and assessment district bonds, which are a debt and yet are neither classed as taxes nor bonds."

"Many of us know by bitter experience that times are hard and money scarce, and it's making us do some tall thinking. One of the thoughts is that public waste and extravagance, in any cause and in any amount, do not help materially in assisting the man out of work to pay his taxes, which are now due and payable. The poor have to help pay the taxes the same as the rich, and the organizers of the league believe local governments can best help private endeavor by a consistent, everlasting economy program so as not to over-burden those who must pay the bills."

"If public expenditures are held to a minimum, consistent with reasonable progress, then there is greater encouragement for building new homes and business blocks, attracting new capital for investments, starting new industries, and every other worth-while and progressive endeavor."

The league directors have not yet officially endorsed any candidate, Goble stated, but such action is anticipated in the near future. When made, such endorsement will not be intended as a disparagement of any other candidate, the league holds, but will represent the league's combined judgment as to those candidates best able to carry out the principles of good government, and will be intended only as a guide to doubtful voters who have not had time to investigate all the available candidates in person. "Where two, three, or four good men have offered themselves we might like to vote for them all, and very often wish we could do that. However, we have to choose the one whom we consider most likely to carry out our wishes in the best possible manner. Every voter does that when he casts his ballot and the league must follow the same course regarding its endorsement."

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Even when tears blind our eyes and our hearts are well-nigh dead from pain, we look out the world and yearn that justice and peace might triumph upon the earth. We long for reciprocity unto God's guidance and strength. We crave an understanding of His will and responsibility to His will. We are so puny and our influence so small. Yet there is something in our hearts, something that is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one who does his duty, for we realize that our communion with Him the contribution of each man's loyalty counts. God's will is to be accomplished. The incarnation of His spirit in individuals. "God make us better men."

THREE CRASHES ARE REPORTED NEAR THIS CITY

Six persons were reported injured, two seriously, in three automobile accidents near Santa Ana yesterday afternoon. All but one were treated at hospitals and two of the injured were still in the hospital today.

In an accident, which state traffic officers attributed to too much speed at a blind intersection, three persons in one automobile and one in another were hurt at First street and the Buero road yesterday afternoon.

R. L. Cavett, 30, of the Y. M. C. A., was seriously hurt, suffering from severe cuts and bruises about the body when his car overturned, and Leo Carroll, 19, of Duarte, Calif., and two companions, Al Harrington, of Duarte, and Walter Hofer, of 2540 Namoni drive, Arcadia, were cut and bruised. They were given first aid treatment at the Santa Ana Valley hospital and later discharged. Cavett was still in the hospital today.

State Traffic Officer Joe Clever investigated the accident. Merle Combs, daughter of John Combs, who was formerly connected with the sheriff's office, was seriously hurt yesterday afternoon in an automobile accident on the road to San Juan Hot Springs.

In company with a party of friends she was returning from an afternoon spent at the springs, and was riding on the running board of the machine. The car struck a sandy stretch in the road and the machine broke, overturning the automobile and throwing Miss Combs clear of the machine. She sustained a compound fracture of the right ankle and her leg was scraped to the bone. A physician who was called pronounced the injury exceedingly difficult to handle, and stated it might mean her foot would have to be amputated. She was brought to a Santa Ana hospital. No one else in the car was hurt.

C. DeLapp, of 331 West Wilshire street, Fullerton, was reported slightly injured yesterday when cars driven by John E. Reed, 17, and C. G. Greenwald, both of Fullerton, collided at Los Angeles and Water streets, in Fullerton, at an intersection, according to a report filed with the state police here.

The trend of taxes in the past four years will be presented. Where they have gone up, the facts will be shown. Decreases will be treated in the same manner. The articles will show where the tax money has gone.

Figures regarding the schools, their tax rates, expenditures, school population and investments will be published.

Statistics on the unemployment situation will be gathered and compiled for publication, showing what the actual situation is today and what it has been in the past.

Garrett Trial To Be In Beach City

A charge of possession of liquor with two prior convictions, filed against James Garrett, alleged Huntington Beach bootlegger, was dismissed in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday afternoon for the purpose of filing a new complaint.

The new complaint will allege the same offense but will be taken to the Huntington Beach township, the Santa Ana Justice of the peace not having jurisdiction in the case, it was reported.

Garrett was arrested by sheriff's officers several days ago when they are asserted to have found a quantity of liquor on his premises.

Local Briefs

Smoke, emitting from the Piggy Wiggy store on West Fourth street, early today caused someone to turn in a fire alarm which was answered by several local companies. No fire was found.

Twenty-three negroes have served in congress since 1870—21 in the house of representatives and two in the senate.

MCBRIDE ASKS FOR RETURN TO CITY COUNCIL

J. L. McBride, member of the city council and water department commissioner, officially announced his candidacy for re-election today and in a statement made to the public, set forth his reasons for seeking again the position on the city council.

"Four years ago when running for the office of city trustee, I made just one promise to the people of Santa Ana, that I would use my best judgment in dealing with city affairs," McBride said.

"I do not believe in making a lot of promises until I know what I am talking about. After being elected to the city council I was appointed water commissioner and for the first six months I made a thorough study and investigation of our water department before definitely making any recommendations to the city council.

"In excess of $150,000 has been spent out of the water fund in the past four years, making permanent additions and improvements to this department which have effected savings and have made possible for the city council to actually reduce the water rate, still leaving ample revenue to carry on all necessary improvements.

"The elevated steel storage tank alone cost in the neighborhood of $90,000. This improvement has been a material factor in causing the insurance companies to reduce the insurance rates in Santa Ana. I am told by an insurance man that this will represent an actual saving to the citizens of Santa Ana $50,000 per year on their insurance premiums.

"I also served the last four years as chairman of the joint outfall sewer board, which has charge of the maintenance and operation of the outfall into the ocean, including all the pumping equipment and pumps, etc., in which the city of Santa Ana has a large investment.

"I have enjoyed the work of these two departments and have spent considerable time in a study of them, so naturally I would like to continue in office another four years in order that other improvements of the systems of these departments can be made," McBride stated.

BUILDERS TO STAGE LADIES' NIGHT MEET

About 150 members of the Orange County Builders Exchange will go as far as they dare in laying aside the cares of building structures of steel and concrete to devote themselves to building up the co-operation of the members of the gentler sex at the regular monthly meeting of this organization to be held April 7, at McFarland's cafe in Fullerton. Explicitly, it will be ladies' night.

V. J. Anderson, who is in charge of arranging a fitting program for the occasion, stated today that he is putting forth special effort to provide entertainment which will ingratiate the gentlemen with the women.

This being a general membership meeting and there being few business matters which are at this time

DR. EDITH SPENCE IS CALLED TODAY

Funeral services for Dr. Edith S. Spence, 52 for five years a practicing physician in Santa Ana, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the Smith and Tutthill Funeral home. Dr. Spence passed away this morning at her home at 301 South Sycamore street.

She is survived by two stepsons, Harry Spence, of San Diego, and Howard Spence, of Portland, Ore.; three sisters, Mrs. Arnold Bruechert, of Omaha, Neb.; Mrs. Robert Fountaine, of Grand Island, Neb., and Miss Florence Saunders, of Sawtelle; two brothers, A. J. Saunders, of La Grange, Ill., and Austin Saunders, of Sawtelle. Interment will be made in the Fairhaven cemetery.

pressing, it will be an occasion for relaxation to consider, as one leader in the building industry said this morning, how best to proceed with renewed zeal in the near future.

LOAN CONCERN REPORTS HUGE SAVINGS FUND

The largest savings volume in the history of the institution has been achieved by Pacific States Savings and Loan company, according to its statement of condition as of March 31, released today.

The statement shows savings of $67,331,676 for an increase during March of $465,819. This also reflects an increase in resources which according to the statement now total $72,868,545.70, also a record total for this forty-two year old institution.

These resources continue to maintain Pacific States Savings as the largest building and loan association in the United States by a margin which is now more than $9,000,000 greater than the next largest association, located in New York City, the statement said.

Officials of Pacific States Savings point out as one of the most significant items in the latest statement the cash position of the institution, which stands at $5,063,097, higher than at any time since October, of last year.

Capital surplus and undivided profits total $5,131,298, and the statement shows loan underwriting fees of $1,189,540 not yet allocated to earnings.

"March proved the most satisfactory month thus far of this year for our institution," said Robert S. Odell, president, "with indications pointing to excellent business during April, with its ten-day reinvestment period."

HEART DISEASE CAUSES DEATHS DURING SLUMP

Well, there's just no use talking, business depression is not good for the health. During the last few months, when the so-called "hard times" reached their zenith of joy-destruction, the death rate has increased throughout the nation, with Orange county being no exception, although the increase here was not at all alarming, being the difference of a couple of numbers behind the decimal point, which, translated into terms understandable by the public, concerns less than one human life!

An interesting fact is developed by figures compiled by the Orange county health department and that is, during times of stress such as the country has been passing through for some 18 months, the heart of humanity seems to be the thing which fails most. The bulk of the deaths considered out of harmony with normal conditions have been due to heart troubles and the majority of those succumbing to this have been above the age limit of 65 years. In Orange county, too, this ratio and this general condition has obtained.

"Excessive worry is a difficult force for any heart to resist and when imposed under abnormal conditions or extreme want of a universal nature, it is liable to convert vital statistics into a wild harlem-scarum picture of desolation," commented an observer of Orange county health affairs today. "Unemployment and a lack of the bare necessities of life are always apt to be too much for a heart none too stout."

By way of refuting a common accusation that Fate is determined to augment man's troubles, it is cited by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, of the health department, that a brief survey of death from infectious diseases shows a reduction in the instance of diphtheria, influenza and whooping cough.

Meanwhile, however, tuberculosis, the much-dreaded White Plague, displays no evidence of a proclivity for decreasing its attacks upon humanity and, in Orange county, a veritable white spot of America, there is an increase of deaths from this cause this year the same as there was last year.

BROTHERHOOD HEARS DR. GOODRICH TALK

Directors of the Orange County Farm bureau, in session today, are said to have voiced high hopes of the return of normal prosperity within the next few months, not only in this section, but throughout the United States.

It is said that at today's meeting of those most conversant with the current situation, it was developed that Orange county was one of the nation's foremost "white spots" because the citrus growers refused to believe that people would suddenly cease to desire their products for either political or economic reasons.

PASTOR TALKS ON EASTER TO KIWANIS CLUB

The Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene here yesterday sugar coated with humor an Easter message for members and friends of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club, meeting at Ketter's cafe.

"In business, in music, in art, in athletics we take as a guide men who have made what we judge to be decided successes," said the speaker.

"But when measuring ourselves with a spiritual and moral yard stick we look at those who are worse than we are. But it would be better for us and better for the world if we looked to Christ and decided to be better than those we know most intimately."

The Vaughan Radio quartet, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., sang four selections that were warmly applauded, the call for encores being insistent. The same quartet will sing at the Christian church services Friday afternoon.

Captain Cook, first to plant the British flag in Australia, had not gone there to find new lands, but had been commissioned by the British Royal Astronomical society to observe the transit of Venus across the sun's face from a southern aspect.

MOVEMENT OF CITRUS STOCK ON INCREASE

Hey, you pessimists who persist in singing the blues when it's time for little ditties with rosey hues! What do you think of this? The leaders and the followers in the citrus industry of Orange county do not share in anything resembling pessimism born of an economic depression. Indeed, a barometer pre-eminent by which to judge the trend to better times-to normalcy-is right here in Santa Ana at what is known as the vacuum fumigator, through which all citrus plants must pass ere they reach the soil in which they are to serve to increase the county, state and national wealth.

Thus far this season-up to this day at noon-the movement of citrus nursery stock has not been only normal, but has been displaying a reassuring tendency toward growing to proportions larger than before.

Although this moving of nursery trees is adding to the eventual output of Orange county in a time when stoppage seems to be the keynote of many, large shipments are being made from this city to San Diego, Los Angeles and Santa Barbara counties.

A. A. Brock, who devotes his energies to the agricultural problems of this county, is authority for the statement that "now is the time to smile and to look at the so-called depression in retrospect, for it surely is over." This means that it goes without stressing that the experienced and altogether astute citrus growers of this and adjoining counties are not expanding and going ahead on the basis of whistling to keep up their courage. They have definite assurance that the turn around the corner is here.

By way of verifying all of this, for instance, it must be added that yesterday and today were two of the busiest days in the history of the local vacuum fumigator, through which every citrus plant with its 40-pound "ball of sustaining soil" must pass ere it reaches its place of production in behalf of the advancement of the national wealth.

Santa Ana, California,
April 1, 1931.

To the Editor,
Editor Register:

At a time like this, just before a municipal election, many attempts are made to place our officials in ill repute with the general public and it has occurred to me that one thing has been overlooked.

It is surprising that the council has not been condemned for their generous action in attempting to relieve the unemployment situation. We are facing this situation at the present time and it is not necessary to go back through the years of service that these men have rendered to find something to talk about.

I understand that $30,000 of the taxpayers' money has been appropriated to give employment to Santa Ana men who are out of work and have families to support. I also understand that something over 300 different needy families have been benefited through this work, and I have not heard one word of criticism. Apparently everyone is agreed that it is a good thing for the city to do. The question as to where this money is coming from has not been gone into very thoroughly but it is just taken for granted that "the city can do it."

Apparently our city officials have not been so extravagant as some people would have us think-apparently our city coffers are not empty and undoubtedly our funds must be in pretty good shape and have been wisely handled for the officials to be able to appropriate this amount of money for the relief of our local families, who might otherwise have gone hungry.

Yours very truly,
JOHN F. HAY.

Release your coffee taste from its prison of monotony... give it the unsurpassed flavor thrill of the choice mountain-grown coffees from Central America. An utterly different kind of coffee. These high-altitude coffees are what give to every cup of Folger's a full-bodied richness and tang that you can never experience in ordinary blends.

Only from certain tiny mountain districts along the West Coast of Central America can these, the finest coffees in the world, be procured. The amount is extremely limited—only a fraction of the world's supply comes from this favored region. Over 70 percent of all the coffees entering the United States comes from one common region. That is why most coffee brands taste so similar... You will notice an outstanding flavor richness with your first cup of Folger's.

MANY WITNESS LOCAL DISPLAY OF WOOD WORK

Considerable interest is being shown in the display of handwork in the windows of the building at the northeast corner of Fourth and Bush streets.

These articles have been made in the three Santa Ana Mexican schools, Fremont, Delhi and Logan, by the fourth to sixth grades. This is the first year in which shopwork has been given in these schools. The work is being carried on with Orwyn P. Veach as instructor under the supervision of Burton H. Rowley, supervisor of industrial education in the Santa Ana city schools.

The objective of this work is to develop ability to handle tools both in home repair work and making new pieces of furniture for the home, to develop an appreciation of art and beauty, to make better use of leisure time, and to train the hands and mind in order that the boys may be better equipped to earn a livelihood.

It is hoped to add to the instruction given until pupils will be able to keep up all minor repairs of the home, Veach said.

Many of the smaller articles have been made from scraps of wood donated by various lumber mills in Santa Ana.

ACTRESS WILL BE ON PROGRAM HONORING FLIER

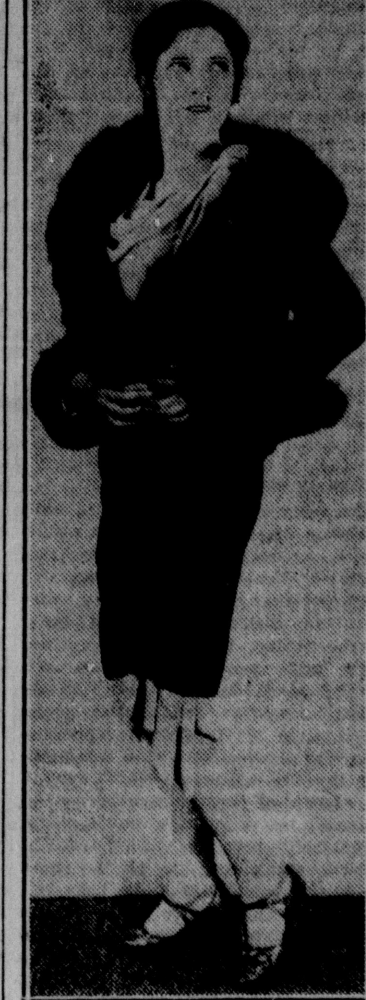

Joane Gaylord, former actress of both stage and screen, will contribute a group of numbers to the program arranged by the Exchange club in honor of the visit of Lieutenant Walter Hinton, aviator, to Santa Ana next Wednesday. It was announced today by Allen Hershey, chairman of the committee appointed to take charge of the affair, which will culminate with a public luncheon to be held at noon next Wednesday at the Legion hall.

Lieutenant Hinton will be the speaker at the meeting and he will give an address on aviation. The board of supervisors, the city council, all of the service clubs and prominent business men of the city have pledged their support to the meeting.

Joane Gaylord has come to Santa Ana from engagements both in New York and Hollywood. She was included in the cast of George M. Cohan's stage hit "Mary Malone," staged in New York and Chicago; played the lead opposite "Red" Grange in "Come on Red," and also appeared in "I Will Leave It To You," "Twinkle, Twinkle," and "Rain or Shine," all produced in New York.

She came to California under contract to the First National studios, where she played in "Broadway Babies," and also appeared in "So This Is College" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and "Happy Days" for Fox. Later she was associated with Peggy O'Neill, play producer, in San Francisco.

Joane Gaylord is now affiliated with her sister Evelyn Vee Gaylord, in her dancing school here, and is specializing in production of plays and fashion revues.

ANNOUNCE PLAN TO DISTRIBUTE BUDDY POPPIES

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 2.—Plans for the distribution of 6,000,000 buddy poppies throughout the country during the week prior to Memorial day, in the tenth annual buddy poppy sale conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., were completed today, according to an announcement by Robert B. Handy Jr., adjutant general in charge of national headquarters here.

"For the past several months, disabled veterans in government hospitals have been making these buddy poppies at a rate of approximately 50,000 poppies a month," declared Handy, who has officiated as chairman of the National Buddy Poppy committee since 1923.

"Despite the fact that a large number of needy veterans have been helped by the loans they are able to secure on their adjusted compensation certificates, the present need for assistance and relief has never been more acute," Handy added.

"There are two explanations for this condition—the prolonged unemployment situation of the past several months and the devastating effects suffered by veterans and their families among drought area victims throughout the South.

"The U. S. Veterans bureau has announced that the average loan made to veterans, under legislation enacted by the recent session of congress, amounts to approximately $367.00. In the vast majority of instances, this money was spent before it was obtained, in the payment of debts and the purchase of vital necessities.

"As an organization dedicated to the administration of relief among veterans and their families, we must depend upon the proceeds of the 1931 buddy poppy sale as a means of providing this necessary relief until the present business depression is lifted and employment conditions are once again normal.

"More than two thousand units of our organization, scattered from coast to coast, rely upon the proceeds of this undertaking as a method of securing funds for local relief activities. The rules and regulations governing the nationwide sale of buddy poppies confine the disbursement of these proceeds exclusively to relief and welfare activities. In nearly every V. F. W. community, the local post has long since exhausted its 1930 relief fund in an effort to cope with existing poverty among unemployed veterans and their families.

"As in the past, one cent from each buddy poppy that adorns the lapel of patriotic citizens on Memorial day will be diverted to the support and maintenance of a V. F. W. National home for widows and orphans of deceased or totally disabled veterans, at Eaton Rapids, Michigan."

WAY TO STOP EPIDEMIC OF "ATHLETE'S FOOT" FOUND BY SPECIALISTS

With millions of people in the country today infected with "Athlete's Foot" germs, it is very probable that you may have this common ailment and not know what it is.

Your toes may have tiny, itching blisters between them. Perhaps the skin has become thick and moist, turned red or white in color, or even developed a scaly dryness.

If you notice any of these conditions, which are the common symptoms of this stealthy form of ringworm, take no chances on serious infection. Apply ABSORBINE JR. at once and freely, as recommended by authorities.

For after careful experiments with the disease, a famous New York laboratory found that this mild, soothing, yet powerful, antiseptic not only checks but actually kills the trichophyton germs which cause "Athlete's Foot."

It is wise to use ABSORBINE JR. after every exposure to wet surfaces—in public places and even in your own bathroom. For the tiny germs breed and lurk simply everywhere, and are always ready to attack. At all drug stores, $1.25. W. F. Young, Inc., Springfield, Mass.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinion of those who write them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Santa Ana, April 1.
Mr. J. F. Burke, publisher,
The Daily Register,
Santa Ana, Cal.

Dear Sir:

I note with interest an item in your paper last night in which it states that our city attorney made a ruling for the benefit of the city council, that "according to law, street and acquisition bonds could not be classified as bonded indebtedness of the city."

What tommyrot! You owe a man one hundred dollars, but "according to law" $25 is on a note; in addition to $75 for goods purchased. Nevertheless, you still owe him $100, and "according to law" the whole blooming business has got to be paid.

When our city trustees and their legal advisor get together, in solemn session, and solemnly decide that Santa Ana boulevard bonds, East First street bonds, and others which they voted upon us, "according to law, cannot be classified as bonded indebtedness of the city," it doesn't alter the fact that we property owners have to pay those bonds, just as we have to pay those we had a chance to vote on ourselves, and which, it is presumed, are properly classed "according to law" as "bonded indebtedness of the city."

No wonder there is such a demand for changes among our officials, and the installation of a little common horse sense in our trustee boards. If we follow out the council's idea to a logical conclusion, we would some day have millions of school, street, boulevard and other acquisition bonds, which would be against all property within the city, and yet, "according to law," we would not have any bonded indebtedness against the city.

Bonded indebtedness against all property within the city, we are supposed to understand, is not bonded indebtedness against the city!

By law, states the council, Santa Ana owes city bonds of only $88,000, and they reiterate that statement.

As a matter of fact, states our county assessor, Santa Ana owes $2,352,604 on city, street, and acquisition bonds, and $1,700,000 school bonds, a total of $4,052,604.

This four million dollar debt is only against the property in Santa

Ana, and not against the city, "according to law," and the city trustees. Of course the city trustees had nothing to do about the school bonds, but we owe them just the same.

But the $2,352,604 city, street, and acquisition bonds have nothing to do with the schools, and were voted against our property, either by the people or by the council through creation of a "district." Probably the people voted the legally constituted "city bonds" of $888,000 and the council the others, $1,524,604, and perhaps that is where the differences of classification "according to law" comes in.

I don't mind paying taxes within reason, and our officials are bound to make some mistakes, but it makes me mad when they seem to think we're so dumb we'll swallow such "rulings" and incomplete statements as have been handed us the past few days.

CLYDE L. MORRIS,
1505 East 17th St.

Mr. J. Frank Burke,
Editor The Register,
Santa Ana, California.

Dear Sir:

When our forefathers started these United States of America they were "fed up" with kings and the divine right of kings to hold their thrones forever. They recognized that kings "went to seed" and their sons likewise, and it was not a good thing for them to hold office forever.

The founders of our government recognized the wholesomeness, in a democracy, of frequent changes of public officials, and prescribed limits of two, four, and six years for the various local, state, and national offices to insure that such changes would take place.

Our presidents have also recognized the advisability of frequent changes among officials, and have limited themselves to two terms in office. Undoubtedly they realized that in eight years in office they had rendered their greatest possible service to the country, and things which they had been unable to make in that length of time had better be left to new blood, represented by younger, fresher men.

The very foundation of democracy is change, just as it is a law of nature. New officials bring a fresh viewpoint, a new inspiration, a new desire to serve the public, and unhampered by old political ties and habits of thought. New leadership is often needed to prevent business firms, organizations, or public offices from getting into ruts. A new deal, with a freshening influence, usually brings about improvements which would have been impossible before such changes were made.

We hear a great deal of talk these days about desired changes among our local city and school officials, with an apparent intention to make a clean sweep and install an entirely new set of officials where such changes are possible. Such a desire is not to be wondered at, under the circumstances, and if carried out will undoubtedly lead to many desired improvements and a new attitude on the part of our public servants whom the public elects to serve. The desire for changes is universal, and in line with the policies upon which our nation was founded, therefore, strictly American in principle.

CHARLES MARTIN

Rooms 14-15, Commercial National Bank Building.

Editor Santa Ana Register:

Your severe editorial on the nullification of the Volstead Act would evoke greater general sympathy were nullification of other laws and constitutional enactments less common and flagrant. Though most of the states, including California, have acts prohibiting state aid in any form for sectarian or religious purposes, yet church property, much of it held for speculation and higher valuation, amounting to (the value of) $2,839,500,610 is exempted from taxation. In Massachusetts private institutional educational property valued at $192,000,000 is tax exempt. In the same state, money donated to the Salvation Army for the relief of the poor, is invested in real estate to the value of over $1,000,000 which is tax-exempt. Seventy per cent of the property of Arizona is tax exempt. The Louisiana Tax Commissioner reports that more than one-half of the property in that state escapes taxation. This scandalous tax-evasion for purposes contrary to law is caused chiefly by the growth of churches, school and charities, which were once state institutions and are now no longer public property, but are private property run for profit just like other businesses, and though bonds, shares, stocks and other private evidences of debts are also to some large extent tax-exempt, the chief offenders against our laws are the churches, private schools and (so-called) charities.

These all share the benefits of our laws and government and should also be compelled to pay their fair share of its costs. Churches, hospitals and schools are private institutions and have absolutely no right to State Aid, for that is, in fact, what tax-exemption amounts to, or in other words, nullification of the laws against state subsidies to churches.

HENRY J. WEEKS,

Laguna Beach, Calif.

March 27, 1931.

Fishermen Gets Abalone Fines

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, April 2.—Harold Harris and Earl Stanfield, both of this place, were fined $25 each by Judge John Landell for having in their possession abalone under legal weight. Both men pleaded guilty. In company with a party of friends and with Stanfield, he went fishing off the Dana Point pier for abalones Monday afternoon. He had a new iron and failed to measure several of the fish which were caught by his guests. When the party arrived at the top of Dana's trail, they found a game warden awaiting them.

To the Citizens of Santa Ana:

The undersigned have been your servants as trustees of this city for the past four years. During this period the work of the City has been carried on according to our best judgment, and we believe at all times, with the interest of the taxpayer and the voter in mind.

We are now in a period of depression, less possibly in Santa Ana than in many quarters, but of such a character that it causes all of us to be especially keen on the subject of income and expense, and with that in mind, even in these times of depression, we are glad to present to you the facts concerning the administration of the city during the past four years.

In the few days between now and election, we propose to present to you the facts concerning the valuation of property in the city, the income of the city government, the increase or decrease in expenses of the city government and the tax rate that you are paying, both for the city and for all purposes.

We propose to point out where the increase or decrease in such rate comes from, so that you may know the facts and fix the responsibility for success or failure where it rightfully belongs.

We are perfectly willing to place our political fortunes as your servants in your hands, particularly if you will suspend judgment until these facts are entirely before you. WE WILL PRESENT THE FIRST INSTALLMENT OF THESE TOMORROW.

S. A. MAN MADE LAGUNA BEACH CITY ATTORNEY

Milburn G. Harvey, of Santa Ana, was appointed city attorney Wednesday evening by the Laguna Beach city council, the bid of O. U.

HANCOCK'S EYE, EAR, NOSE & THROAT CLINIC
Reduced Overhead by Moving to Easy Parking at 1101 North Ross St.
Phone 1200

Miracle for the Ocean Avenue-El Paseo Improvement district was accepted, the bid of Smith brothers for work near the comfort station was accepted, and the bowling club was given permission to install greens on Heisler park on the ocean front.

An ordinance setting the salary of Harvey at $75 a month and specifying his duties, was passed to third reading. The first two assignments given him by the council are the A. J. Stead suit against the city for $6702 for compensation claimed for work on a sewer district and the case of Highland street, previously before the city council.

Three bids were received on the Ocean Avenue-El Paseo Improvement district, these being the O. U. Miracle bid of $29,516.29, the Hollywood Paving company bid of $30,528.08, and the Fritz Ziebarth bid of $33,279.44. The estimate of City Engineer Frank P. Gowan was $30,732.60 for the work, which is for paving, ornamental lightings, walks and curbs on one block of El Paseo, two on Ocean Avenue and part of a block on Beach street. Mr. Miracle promised work would start as soon as legally possible.

John Arcoski asked if the corner on the west side of Ocean Avenue at the intersection of Third street would be improved. He was told that it could not be included in the district as it had not yet been acquired, being in other proceedings, but that when acquired it would be improved to conform to the other work. Moving of a light standard and telephone or electric pole would be required, he pointed out. The corner is to round the approach from Third street.

With no bids other than that of Smith brothers held from a former meeting, contract was let to this firm for a walk and other work at the comfort station. A retaining wall was finished by the same firm recently.

Delay in getting the cliffs improved under way was explained by City Engineer Gowan as due to difficulty in financing plans. He thought progress would be made before the next regular council meeting.

Though dead to the city from the supervisors for Heisler park has not yet been made, Councilman Frank B. Champion said he had been assured by Supervisor George Jeffrey that this would be made next Tuesday.

STRONG MAN ACT DRAWS BIG CROWD

Hundreds of persons were attracted to the window of the Schramm-Johnson Drug store during the noon hour to watch Jim Evans, known as the "Tom Thumb" strong man, perform in advertising the picture, "It Pays to Advertise" which opens at the Fox West Coast theater Sunday.

Bending nails with his teeth, tearing up packs of cards and doing various other strong man stunts, Evans entertained the crowd for more than an hour. He will appear again at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the window and again at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The same act will be repeated again tomorrow in the drug store window.

Saturday night at 6:45 o'clock, Evans will be run over by a Cadillac automobile, in front of the Fox West Coast theater and Sunday afternoon at the theater six men will attempt to choke him with a rope around his neck, it was announced.

Methodist Church Of Fullerton To Present Oratorio

FULLERTON, April 2.—Out-standing singers of the community will take part in "Redemption," oratorio by Gounod, pretentious musical offering to be presented by the First Methodist church Episcopal church choir at the church Sunday at 8 p. m. vesper service. Glenn Lewis, director of the choir, is in charge of the service.

BARBERS ENJOY PROSPERITY AS CONTEST ENDS

NEWPORT BEACH, April 2.—Citizens of this community had normal appearances today, and the prosperity they felt all along was just around the corner following the whisker growing contest waged here for the last two weeks, which ended yesterday.

Harry H. Williamson, who added to his hirsute adornment a tattered and torn sailor garb, won first prize, and Charles F. Crawford, wearing a comedy hat and a cigar 10 inches long by one and a half inches through, captured second. The prizes were $10 and $5, respectively, given by H. L. Sherman, who also grew a beard, but left himself out of the prize competition.

Williamson, Sherman, Ray J. Saunders and Theo. Robins rode a four-passenger tandem bicycle through the streets of Newport and Balboa, ending up at the Yacht club at noon, where the Exchange club, under whose auspices the beard contest was put on, held their weekly luncheon meeting.

Chief of Police R. R. Hodgkinson, Crawford and Steve Smith, president of the club, all of whom competed in the contest, rode other bicycles. All were dressed as they dressed in the gay nineties, when bikes were in vogue. The bicycle parade was a feature of the Easter collegiate carnival being sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

Dr. Conrad Richter, former mayor, back from a trip of several months in Germany and other European countries, told of his travels. Germany and in fact all Europe, is in a deplorable condition, he said.

"I doubt if Germany can ever come back, and communism is knocking at the door," Dr. Richter said. "In fact the communists are, next to the Social-Democrats, the second strongest political party in the country."

Hold Egg Hunt Saturday Morning

FULLERTON, April 2.—Details of the Easter egg hunt to be staged Saturday morning for children of Fullerton by the local American Legion post were announced today by David R. Day, chairman of the committee in charge. The program will open with a brief picture show at the Fox Fullerton theater at 9:45 a. m. which is free to all children. Following the show, a parade of all the children is planned from the theater to the city park, the entire group being led by the Fullerton boys' band, under supervision by the police officials.

The hunt will be held at the West Commonwealth park where eggs will be hidden for the children to seek.

FIND BODY OF BEACH MAN IN PARKED AUTO

Apparently committing suicide by inhaling the poisonous monoxide gases from the exhaust of his car, the body of E. A. Peterson, 318 West "D" street, Wilmington, was found in his car parked on Bolso-Chico road three miles west of Westminster at 10:45 this morning.

According to a report made by J. A. Jollisse, 266 Loma avenue, Long Beach, who discovered the body in the car, Peterson had attached an inch and a half hose to the exhaust of his car and had run the hose up to the inside of the car and had wired it to the steering wheel. The car was a roadster and he had put the side curtains on and had stuffed all places, capable of admitting air, with rags so that the fumes could not escape.

Jollisse passed the car once this morning and after coming back on the same road he noticed the hose leading from the exhaust and the side curtains on the car and stopped to investigate. He notified the sheriff's office and Deputy Sheriff Zabel, Nicholson, Dean and Deputy Coroner John Martell went to the scene.

Martell ordered the body taken to the Dixon Funeral home in Huntington Beach.

CARRIER BOYS WILL BE THEATER GUESTS

Carrier boys of the Santa Ana Register, both city and rural, numbering 150, will be guests of the Fox Broadway theater tonight to see "Skippy," one of the greatest children's pictures that has ever been brought to the screen.

The carrier boys will be in charge of Roscoe Conklin, circulation manager and have been asked to meet at the Register building at 6:30 o'clock before going to the theater where they will be entertained for several minutes by Noodles Fagan, famous stage comedian and ex-newsboy king.

Fagan is well known to the children of Santa Ana, having been in charge of the Mickey Mouse club here several months ago.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 2.—Building permits for the month of March totaled over $30,000. Building permits for March a year ago totaled $10,000. The big gain over the same month last year is due to the taking out of the permit for the elementary school gym and plunge.

Gold Star Mother Speaks On France

ANAHEIM, April 2.—The general meeting of the Women's Aid society of the White Temple Methodist church was held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Nettie Eyebroad, 1204 West Center street. Mrs. Orilla Bigelow addressed the gathering on her trip to France with the Gold Star mothers, and Mrs. Ralph W. Lee, wife of the pastor of the church, chose "The Last Supper" as the topic of her address in the Holy week series.

OLD PUBLICATION TELLS OF SUFFRAGE

ORANGE, April 2.—Frank Dale, city building inspector here, came recently into possession of a magazine published about 60 years ago. In looking through the yellowed pages he was interested to find an article on the right of women to vote.

The magazine was a Methodist publication and was called "The Ladies Repository." The article on women's rights explained that women were classed with Negroes, Indians and idiots.

The author, a woman with advanced thoughts, declares that in discussing the problem of woman's suffrage, "there springs up the idea of troops of tramping bloomers, leaving cradles unlooked, stockings undarned, babies howling and bread burning."

Dale points out that with women's suffrage cradles have disappeared, as women no longer consider it good for babies to be rocked, that few women bake bread and that a certain amount of crying is considered good as a lung developer for babies.

To Relieve Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises.

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to McCoy Drug Store or your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmit (Double Strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

PHOTOGRAPHER ATTRACTED TO WILD FLOWERS

ORANGE, April 2.—Lustin E. Martindale, of Los Angeles, was in Orange yesterday to obtain a permit to pick wild flowers in the Cleveland National reserve for scientific study. Martindale has made about 2800 plates of wild flowers of Southern California for use in libraries, schools and botanical gardens.

The collector photographs the specimens first and then tints the pictures by hand in the natural colors. There are about 6000 varieties of wild flowers in the state, he states, and many of them are found only in certain sections. San Diego has yellow and white lupines which grow no other place, he says.

Martindale recently placed 200 plates in the Santa Ana library for exhibition purposes. He returned last week from Bakersfield with photographs of fields of blue lupines which have the appearance of vast blue seas. There were also great stretches of country covered with what is called the "golden girl" in that vicinity which he exhibited here yesterday.

The photographer is very enthusiastic about the beauties of the flowers of Southern California and has spent nearly his entire life in photographic work.

It is necessary to obtain permission of property owners to pick flowers and of the forest ranger on national reserves. Yucca and holly may not be picked at all, it was said. It was pointed out that the greater number of wild flowers wither quickly and that they should not be pulled up by the roots.

LUNCHEON HELD IN EL MODENA VOTED SUCCESS

ORANGE, April 2.—One of the most pleasant affairs of the week was the "poverty" luncheon given in the R. W. Jones home yesterday, with Mrs. R. W. Jones, Mrs. Luther Barnett, Mrs. Joseph Bricke and Mrs. Clarence McCollum as hostesses.

The luncheon was planned with the idea of giving a good meal for 10 cents or less a plate as possible. This object was gained as figures were shown by the hostesses to be less than seven and one-third cents per person, which netted a sum to go into the treasury of the El Modena Woman's Missionary society.

The seven tables were attractively appointed and centered with a bouquet of spicy carnations interspersed with lacy ferns.

The menu consisted of fruit cocktail, veal roast, mashed potatoes, brown gravy, buttered carrots,

Guy Bevier Williams To Play Over KREG Tonight

PROGRAM WILL INCLUDE EIGHT COMPOSITIONS

The program for the concert appearance of Guy Bevier Williams over KREG tonight was announced today. The noted pianist will play from 8 to 9:30 p. m. A well arranged list of eight compositions will be presented.

It also was announced that the musician will be host to several of his artist pupils during his broadcast. Four of the advanced artist students have been chosen by L. E. Behrmer, noted artist, impresario, for appearances at various concerts. Williams is musical director of the Institute of Musical Education.

The program, as announced today, follows:

"Praeludium," Kaun; "The En-gulfed Cathedral," Debussy; "Spirit of the Woods," Friml; "Prelude in G," Chopin; "Etude in C Sharp Minor," Chopin; "Etude in C Minor," Chopin; "Chimes of St.

Patrick," Whithorne; "Flirtation in a Chinese Garden," Chasins. In connection with "The En-gulfed Cathedral," is a story that on the coast of Brittany the ruins of five Roman roads have been discovered; but they lead nowhere, for at the point where they should converge is the open sea. The natives have a legend which tells that once there was a beautiful city there with a magnificent cathedral, but one day it sank into the sea. And how on holy days they believe they can still hear the bells of the cathedral sounding beneath the waves, and they strew flowers on the waters.

"The Spirit of the Woods" is an improvisation written by Friml before he took up the musical comedy vein. It breathes the atmosphere of the forest and the out of doors.

The "Etude in C Sharp Minor" is said to be the most famous study for the piano, while the "Etude in C Minor" is a well known Revolutionary study. The composer of "The Chimes of St. Patrick" is an American and the composition presents a musical picture of the great cathedral on Riverside drive.

"This tumultuous chiming of bells high in the twin steeples, a great organ intoning the solemn Dies Irae, vivid patches of color stretching in rich patterns across the pavement of the nave, dropped down from warm hued windows, and throughout the composition the noble Gregorian chant, a gothic column of melody reaching upward to support the mighty dome of sound of the massive bells—thus has this composition been described.

Greater Hudson "8" proves the economy of ECONOMY Gasoline by averaging 20.64 miles to the gallon during 128 mile certified test run!

AGAIN ECONOMY Gasoline lives up to its name as the economical motor fuel. Wes Mahany was behind the wheel. The 1931 Hudson "8" was furnished by Pacific Motors of Huntington Park. In making the run from Los Angeles to San Clemente and return...driving conditions were identical with average pleasure motoring.

No ordinary gasoline could show such low fuel consumption. Again and again, in every type of motor, Economy Gasoline has lived up to its claims. Your motor produces "more miles to the dollar" from Economy Gasoline because it is definitely refined to do so... with plenty of power and pick-up besides.

Economy Gasoline is the talk of motordom. Commercial businesses, salesmen, executives, women and youngsters are learning to reduce motor fuel costs with Economy. Thousands are flocking around the light green Economy pump. New Independent service stations are adding this preferred gasoline. Try it...fill your tank...economize with Economy Gasoline!

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

It would have meant $10,000 to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Collettelli if Sun Beau had won the Agua Caliente race on Mike Hall, reached right into Frankie's pocket and helped himself to 10 grand . . . after the race, said Mrs. Collettelli: "Frankie did his best. You couldn't ask for more. I'm sorry we lost but there is no one I would rather see win than Spec O'Donnell." . . . nice little speech . . . five days before the race, Sun Beau picked up a stone . . . it may have meant no difference in his running, however . . . you will have to admit that Mike Hall, in setting a new track record, didn't cheat anybody in winning.

PERSONAL NOTES

If we didn't know that Burt Shotton was a smart bargainer, that trade whereby the Phils gave Thompson and O'Doul to the Robins for Elliott, Dudley and Lee might make Mr. Shotton look a bit like a sap. But we do know that Burt Shotton is a canny man, and will just have to ask you to wait and see how Elliott and Dudley pitch for the Phils in league games before reaching any conclusion.

Another wise trader is Judge Fuchs of the Braves. One of the baseball managers in the south said that you have to hold on to your watch when talking business with the Braves' owner.

GRIFF'S LITTLE DEAL

Still another smart trader is Clerk Griffith. When he got Manush and Crowder from the Browns in exchange for Goslin he positively made Philip DeCatesby Ball look like a great big philanthropist. Not only that but he put the Senators into this year's pennant race, and that doesn't mean maybe, either.

A number of McGraw's trades have made the manager of the Giants look bad, because many of the men he sent hither and yon have turned out to be stars. That doesn't worry McGraw, however. When a ball player, either by disposition or playing habits, fails to fit into the McGraw pattern, John simply sends him on his way, taking a loss, but holding to his course.

HOW ROBBIE DOES IT

Under the mask of a gullest personality, your Uncle Wilbert Robinson has picked up some pretty good ball players for his Brooklyn ball team. It is not hard to remember how he gave Cincinnati Pitcher Douglas McWeeney for an aged and indigent son named Adolph Luque, and how Adolph kept the Robins right up there during most of last summer.

It is just as easy to recall how he took Glenn Wright from the Pirates in exchange for Jess Petty and Harry Riconda, and how Glenn, with his shoulder patched up, became one of the two greatest shortstops in the National league—the other being Travis Jackson.

This year Uncle Robbie has picked up "Lefty" O'Doul and Freddie Thompson in exchange for a couple of pitchers and Hal Lee, and if you cherish a secret notion that this latest bargain doesn't put your uncle at the top of the National league, don't go around and get yourself classed as a bit squirrelly.

MANY-SIDED ROBBIE

Of all the managers in the big leagues today, I think Uncle Robbie is the most humanly interesting. Walter Johnson is a splendid character with qualities you just have to admire. But every move that Uncle Robbie makes is a picture. Every word is a story.

Robbie can be very gruff in a kindly way, and he can be as bland as a plate of pancakes. On the ball field his sudden worries flare into impulsive outbursts that die away as quickly as the brief flame of a match. Between these upheavals, the chief of the Robins perches pleasantly on the bench, unconcerned with the game, his generalities in an amazingly candid way.

He remains as a relic of other baseball days, rowdy days. It is not hard to imagine him behind the bat for the old Orioles of blessed memory, pegging down to third where slim young John McGraw waited to slap the ball on a rash runner. He has kept the fine old fighting spirit of baseball about him.

I hope he will always be manager of the Brooklyn ball team.

ALL-STAR CARD WHITMAN PLAN FOR REOPENING

Zenaydo Chavez and Indian Jimmie Rivers, one-time bitter rivals for Orange county's fistic affections, signed articles today for an eight-round bout at Delhi next Thursday night, April 9.

The occasion will be the reopening of the southside arena after three weeks of darkness because of the Lenten season, and Matchmaker Benny Whitman has lined up a well balanced all-star program.

Chavez and Rivers will share the main event with "Wild Man" Macias and Frankie Stevens, another pair of welterweights.

The Chavez and Rivers appearances were guaranteed after the two Mexican favorites survived important matches at Wilmington last night. Chavez got a hairline decision over Paul De Hate while the rugged Macias, making his first start under the colors of Roger Shipley, knocked out Joe Cardoza in the seventh round of an eight-round main event. Macias showed no ill effects as a result of the broken hand he suffered several months ago in a contest at Ventura.

Chavez and Rivers met here two years ago. The boys were then at the height of their rivalry and the scrap drew more customers than any here before or since. Despite strenuous efforts, matchmakers were unable to get the fighters together again. Rivers was charged with running out of one bout and later, when his manager, Jay Walker, broke with Promoter H. T. Foust, Rivers was automatically disqualified from Foust's arena. Since Rivers has been harmonizing the boxing hinterlands with Romeo Lemon, Walker has been suspended by the state boxing commission and Rivers is no longer doing business with him, it is said.

Other bouts planned by Whitman next week are Wally Fraser vs. Columbus Evans, 170 pounds; Bobby O'Hara vs. Eddie Lozano, 148 pounds; Tony Moreno vs. Herman Placentia, 128 pounds.

SANTA ANA'S BROTHER ACT PLEASES TROY

Two of Santa Ana's greatest graduates are these two, Norman Paul (left) and his brother, Howard, track stars at the University of Southern California. Howard is beginning his last season in Trojan spangles but Norman, captain of Santa Ana's state champion high school team of last year, is just a freshman.

SORROW GRIPS HEART STRINGS OF THOUSANDS

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 2.—(UP)—Silent homage was paid to the great Knute Rockne today as his body lay in state in a bronze casket encased in a grey silver vault. There were no cheers, no bands, no noise—just ghastly silence everywhere. Rockne's death was beyond comprehension.

A scant four months ago these same loyal townspeople and students were standing in the same places, yelling, milling about in thunderous tribute to Rockne and his players after Notre Dame had completed its second successive undefeated season by humbling Southern California's mighty Trojans.

For 20 years—as a student, assistant coach and finally head coach—Rockne's life was entwined with Notre Dame and his tragic end in an airplane crash in Kansas has staggered the historic school to its very foundation.

Sorrow Grips Heart Strings

Gloom and sorrow gripped and tugged at heart strings of men and women from all walks of life. Those who had seen his football teams play, those who knew him well, those who knew him casually and those that knew him not at all—all mourned his passing. Eight thousand persons standing in sorrowful silence—that was a never to be forgotten picture as Rockne's body arrived last night over the New York Central from Chicago, whence it had come from Kansas.

Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, president of Notre Dame, was at the station to meet the Rockne cortege as an official representative of the university. He gazed in silence as the casket, banked with lilies and roses, was lowered to a conveyance.

Then the casket was escorted to a funeral chapel in the heart of South Bend, a mile from the campus where Rockne's genius fashioned the greatest football teams in gridiron history.

Funeral Plans in Abeyance

All funeral arrangements have been held in abeyance until Mrs. Bonnie Rockne, widow of the coach, and her two youngest children, Mary Jean and Jackie, arrive late today from Florida.

The funeral has been tentatively arranged for Monday at the Sacred Heart church, which has a seating capacity of less than 1000. There is a probability that it may be held Saturday if special dispensation can be obtained from Bishop Noll of Fort Wayne diocese.

Another tentative plan suggested is to hold the funeral in the Notre Dam stadium to accommodate the thousands who wish to attend. This is unlikely as Mrs. Rockne has discouraged all suggestions of public display in her communications with Father O'Donnell.

Burial will be either in the Cedar Grove cemetery adjoining the Notre Dame campus and across the roadway from the Notre Dame stadium or in a Chicago crypt. Mrs. Rockne's decision will determine which.

Rockne's Sons On Campus

Rockne's two oldest sons, Billy, 14, and Knute Jr., 11—the one who wants to be a football coach like his dad—spent the night on the Notre Dame campus in the care of Coach H. H. Francis of Pembroke academy, Kansas City, where they attended school.

Many of the football players who rose to fame under Rockne's tutelage arrived today to pay their last respects.

Adam Walsh, Yale line coach and captain of the great 1924 team, and his brother, Charles (Chilly) Walsh, and on the 1927 team, were among the early arrivals. Jack Elder, whose 95-yard run won the Army game in 1928, was another. All of the "Four Horsemen" were expected as well as hundreds of other players.

Any speculation over Notre Dame's next coach is far fetched. No one here mentions such a thing. Many months may pass before any official thought will be given to the task of choosing—not Rockne's successor—but another coach.

Shoes Too Big To Fill

Rockne will never have a successor. His shoes were too big to be filled.

Thousands, including many former Notre Dame students, paid their respects to Rockne's memory as his body passed through Chicago last night.

It was estimated that 10,000 were

NOTRE DAME UNDEFEATED WITH ROCKNE IN LINEUP; DUMFOUND ARMY ELEVEN WITH PASS GAME

(This is the second of a series of four articles dealing with the life of Knute Rockne—Sport editor's note.)

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, April 2.—Notre Dame never lost a football game in which Knute Rockne played during the seasons of 1911, 1912 and 1913. Rockne made his collegiate football debut in the first game of the 1911 season against Ohio Northern. The Irish won, 32-6, but it was a mildly disastrous beginning for Rockne.

Charley Dorais, Detroit coach who was quarterback of the Notre Dame team, threw Rockne a forward pass and almost broke one of Knute's fingers. Rockne was so tense and high strung his muscles were rigid and he dropped the ball.

That muffed pass taught Rockne a lesson he never forgot: Loose hands and relaxed fingers are the only effective tools for receiving a forward pass.

Not Sensational Player

Rockne's big time debut on the gridiron was not made until the fifth game of the 1911 season against Pittsburgh. The game ended in a scoreless tie, but Rockne almost won the game when he scooped up an onside kick from Dorais and raced for a touchdown which the officials did not allow.

Rockne was not a sensational player, according to Ray Eichlaub, fullback of the 1911, 1912 and 1913 teams.

"Rockne was a mighty hard end to get around and he was a great forward pass catcher," says Eichlaub. "He did what he was supposed to do and he did it well. He was methodical. Those qualities enabled him to build great football teams as a coach, because he was able to teach players to do exactly what they were supposed to do."

Perfect Forward Pass

Although Notre Dame did not originate the forward pass, it was Dorais and Rockne, as players, who first perfected it into a devastating offensive weapon which revolutionized football during this period.

After going through the seasons of 1911 and 1912 without defeat, Notre Dame obtained a game on the Army schedule in 1913. Rockne and Dorais began preparing for this game in the summer before the 1913 season. It was Notre Dame's chance for gridiron recognition, and Rockne and Dorais spent the summer at Clear Point, O., on Lake Erie, and throughout the long summer afternoons Rockne spent all his spare time running down the beach after passes tossed by Dorais.

That long tedious practice resulted in one of the biggest upsets of the 1913 season, Notre Dame defeating the Army, 35-13. Notre Dame scored its first touchdown on a ruse by Rockne.

After one scrimmage he got up limping, and on the next three plays Dorais passed to another player. Then on the next play the limping Rockne, left him uncovered. He raced down the field 40 yards and stood behind the goal to take the longest pass that had ever been completed up to that time. The Army was dumfounded. It was the beginning of a new era in football.

The record of the 1913 team, of which Rockne was captain, follows:

Notre Dame 27, Ohio Northern 0.
Notre Dame 20, South Dakota 7.
Notre Dame 62, Alma, O.
Notre Dame 35, Army 13.
Notre Dame 14, Penn State 7.
Notre Dame 20, Christian Brothers.
Notre Dame 30, Texas 7.
Notre Dame 26, Opponents 41.

Rockne called the Notre Dame Texas game the toughest he ever played in during his college career. It was a hot sultry day in Austin, Tex., where the game was played, and the Notre Dame players had just left South Bend a few days before in freezing weather.

Luck of the Irish

That first half played in terrific heat was described by Rockne as "thirty minutes of hell." The Notre Dame players left the field almost exhausted but, strangely enough, a "norther" came up between halves. The Irish went back on the field, scored two touchdowns in 10 minutes and ran up a large score.

There was no rest, however, for Rockne. A giant tackle on the Texas eleven concentrated on Rockne and made life miserable for him. Wary of the battering received at the hands of the Texas giant, the spindly-legged Rockne ran to the sidelines and yelled:

"Send in Elward, coach, he needs only 10 minutes for his monogram."

"Nice of you, Rock, to think of Elward," said the coach.

Thinking of Self

"I wasn't thinking of Elward. I was thinking about my poor bruised carcass. Wait till that giant gets through with Elward."

It was the immortal Jim Thorpe who gave Rockne the most miserable afternoon he ever spent on a football field. Three times Rockne tackled Thorpe in a professional game, each time Thorpe jarring Knute from his eye teeth to his toes.

"Come on, let Jim run," Thorpe remarked to Rockne after the third tackle.

Again Thorpe charged at Rockne, who attempted to pull him down. Thorpe hit him going full speed and continued on down the field for 40 yards and a touchdown with Rockne prostrate.

"I told you to let Jim run, Knute," Thorpe laughed as he came back. "That's a good boy."

Was Head Track Coach

During his college days Rockne also was a track star and he became head track coach at Notre Dame in 1916 in addition to acting as Jesse Harper's assistant in football. With the exception of 1924, Rockne remained head track coach until he relinquished that job to John Nicholson in 1927 because of other duties. Rockne became head football coach in 1918, and his first team played six games, won three, lost one and tied two.

While assistant football coach, Rockne personally assumed the

DONS CALL OFF WEEK'S TRACK BALL CONTESTS

Finding it extremely difficult to hold regular practice during vacation, Coaches Bill and Clyde Cook, of the track and baseball teams at Santa Ana junior college, have postponed until next week their conference contests scheduled for this week.

The Don baseball players, carded for a game with Compton this week end, will meet the Tartars instead next Tuesday at Poly field. Santa Ana was hard hit last week by the ineptitude of its two best pitchers, "Bono" Koral and Les Fulsom, but it is expected their tangle will be straightened out before Tuesday. With Koral and Fulsom both on the bench, the Cookmen lost to Long Beach 3 to 1, although Russell Sullivan pitched a good relief game.

As for the tracksters, their conference meet with Los Angeles will be held here Tuesday or Wednesday. Since Los Angeles also is having vacation this week, both coaches thought it best to postpone the meet.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES.—The Chicago Cubs had 11 victories and 12 defeats to their spring training record today as they opened a two game series with the Los Angeles Angels. The Cubs dropped their 12th game yesterday to the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-11, the Pirates driving "Bud" Tootout from the mound with a seven run onslaught in the fourth inning. Granham, Traynor, McCannan, Hornsby and Zack Taylor hit home runs.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Manager Bill Killefer of the St. Louis Browns laughed today when asked if he planned a trade with the New York Yankees.

"The Yanks won't get a pitcher from us," Killefer said. "We couldn't struggle along with a shorter pitching staff."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The Boston Braves broke camp today and headed north. As the club is quite a bit under the player limit, it is likely that every man now on the roster will be carried all the way to Boston. One exception may be Don Lehardt, recruit first baseman, for whom Jersey City and other International league clubs are bidding.

BRADENTON, Fla.—Eddie Delker and not the veteran "Sparky" Adams will start the season at third base for the St. Louis Cardinals. Adams is Mgr. Street's present choice for the job, but Delker, by his terrific hitting, may force Street to give him the post. The Cardinals break camp Saturday.

ASHEVILLE, N. C.—The Phillies left here last night for Philadelphia, where they open the city series with the world champion Athletics Friday.

MADISON, Ga.—The Cincinnati Reds, a complete flop judging by their exhibition games, will be a much stronger club when the regular season opens. Manager Dan Howley said here yesterday. Howley is of the opinion that Eddie Roush and Cliff Heathcote, new additions to the outfield, will give the Reds a much stronger batting punch, and that the pitching staff is plenty strong.

MAON, Ga.—With "Daddy" Vance safe in camp and satisfied with his contract calling for $22,000, the Brooklyn Robins were a happy lot when they worked out today. Eddie Roush, Cincinnati outfielder, will work out with the Robins until they leave for home.

LONG BEACH BEATS S. A. TENNIS TEAM

Unable to win a single set in six matches, members of the Santa Ana junior college tennis team hit solid earth with a hard bump today and sadly viewed the 23 to 0 result of their first conference match yesterday with Long Beach.

The Dons had fond air castles of getting somewhere in the jaycee tennis loop but hit a snag in the Norsemen. Long Beach had an all-powerful squad and boasts victories in every start this year, including wins over the U. S. C. reserves, Compton Junior college and Monrovia All-Stars.

Santa Ana's second league contest will come next Tuesday with Compton. Bob Kirk, stellar first singles player who was absent yesterday, will be on hand for the Tartars.

The results:

First singles—Mathews (LB) defeated Waters (SA) 6-3, 6-1.
Second singles—Bartlett (LB) defeated Slaback (SA) 6-2, 6-1.
Third singles—Nevis (LB) defeated Evans (SA) 6-1, 6-2.
Fourth singles—Claus (LB) defeated Ball (SA) 6-3, 6-0.
First doubles—Travis and Dean (LB) defeated Fry and Buescher (SA) 6-2, 6-4.
Second doubles—Jones and Brown (LB) defeated Ridenour and Conner (SA) 6-0, 6-2.

PLAN TO SHIFT SANTA ANA AND FULLERTON TO EASTERN J. C. DIVISION FINDS TROUBLE

Despite announcements that Santa Ana and Fullerton had been shifted to the Eastern division from the Western division of the Southern California Junior College conference, replacing Santa Monica, the change may not be made after all, according to H. E. Wilson of Riverside, conference commissioner.

Just why the new arrangement may not be consummated was not disclosed by Wilson but it was reported here that unforeseen opposition from some source had been brought to bear on Wilson, delaying the official decision in the matter.

The change in athletic bedfellows was satisfactory both to Santa Ana and Fullerton who have fared none too well against Western division opposition in sports other than football.

Until the problem is thrashed out the 1931 jaycee conference football schedules will not be available, Wilson said.

This week at Santa Cruz officers of both the Southern California group and the California Coast conference will meet to discuss the recent trouble between Menlo and Chaffey junior colleges in arranging a play-off for the state basketball title. Chaffey was all ready to meet the victors of the C. C. C. when it suddenly developed that Menlo was not so keen for the game.

This occurred in spite of the pre-arranged agreement between the Commissioner Wilson and Dr. E. C. Hoch, president of the Northern conference that the winners would meet for the state crown.

At this discussion of rules and regulations pertaining to junior college play-offs, will rest the fate of further state title contests. The southern members are anxious to compete with the jaycees of the north but it appears the coast conference schools are not so keen about the idea.

WILL BABE WHIFF OR LIFT ONE INTO NORTH CAROLINA?

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 2.—(UP)—A perfect baseball day dawned here today to give proper setting for the diamond clash between Jackie Mitchell, girl southpaw pitcher of the Chattanooga Lookouts and Babe Ruth, home run king of the New York Yankees.

The long heralded debut of the 17-year-old, 130-pound girl athlete was postponed Wednesday because of inclement weather, but today things looked different and Chattanooga prepared to trek to Engel park to be at "the kill"—whatever it might be and whoever it might involve.

Much speculation preceded the game as to whether the Babe "will be a good sport" and "give the little girl a break" by striking out the first time up, then, perhaps, "go out and lift one into Western North Carolina."

"What's going to happen next?" Ruth wanted to know when he first learned of Jackie's bona fide contract. "I'll feel pretty funny going to bat with a girl in the box, I guess—but—I'll go through with it."

Jackie probably felt about the same way, although publicly she expressed complete confidence in her ability to fool the big Bambino. She has played baseball for years, studied under the great tutor, Kid Elberfeld at Atlanta, and is ready for the test.

TROJAN-IRISH WESTMINSTER GRID RIVALRY BASEBALL MEN WILL CONTINUE HARD AT WORK

LOS ANGELES, April 2.—(INS)—Howard Jones, football coach of the University of Southern California, revealed today that the inter-sectional games between the Trojans and the Irish of Notre Dame would probably continue.

Through another contract, signed by the death of Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach.

Rockne was preparing to lay a proposal for continuing the contract before the Notre Dame board of athletic control, Jones said. The plan was to bring the Irish here in airplanes for the 1932 game.

The present contract for gridiron competition between the schools expires after their game next fall.

Jones said in all his contracts with Rockne, there had never been a hint of discord.

WESTMINSTER, April 2.—Try-outs are being conducted here almost nightly by Francis Penhall, manager of the Westminster Aclators who will play in the National Night Baseball league this summer.

Practice games were played Monday and Wednesday with the first team of Huntington Beach high school, the Aclators winning both.

Indications are that most of last year's Southern California "p" league champions will win regular berths although a number of new men, including "Speed" Hagenmeyer, catcher, and Ora Sands, third baseman, both of Santa Ana, are promising candidates.

Ira DeBusk and Bill Gardner probably will do the Aclators pitching with Hagenmeyer and Penhall back of the bat. McGuire, Burns, Campbell, George and Boyd Davis, Starkey and Sauer are other probable starters.

PROPOSE NEW NIGHT LOOP IN HARBOR SECTION

LONG BEACH, April 2.—Long Beach Shell Oil, San Pedro, Wilmington, Torrance, Compton and Redondo Beach may make up the membership of a new night baseball league, according to plans proposed today by Billy Feistner, Shell Oil magnate here, who is prepared to build a new ball park overlooking the beach.

It is understood that Feistner and others interested will call a meeting early next week to discuss the venture.

FULLERTON WORKOUTS ATTRACT 20

FULLERTON, April 2.—Twenty candidates have reported to Vincent ("Mutt") Dausner, new manager of Fullerton's night baseball team. Dausner is angling for an exhibition game with a Long Beach team for Friday.

Players who have been working out regularly with the team include Andy Sorsabal, "Bud" White, Stan Schulte, Francis Bissitt, L. C. Edwards, Merrill Gregory, George Davies, Fred Mays, Waldo Smith, Earl Elder, Erle Dixon, Burton Goodrich, Kenneth Foster, Floyd McGaughy, Melvin McGaughy, Tom Quinn, Nick Nixon, Bob Jones, Jim Flanagan and Manager Mutt Dausner.

Howard Paul's Track Fame To Be Carried on By Brother Norman

"Twas a happy day for Trojan trackdom when Howard Paul of Santa Ana decided to pursue the higher arts of readin' and writin' and 'rithmetic at the University of Southern California.

The Trojans got more than one fine athlete that day.

Howard is beginning his third and last season of competition for Southern California but his family name is going to be prominent in the annals of Trojan track at least three more years because his younger brother, Norman, naturally followed in Howard's collegiate footsteps.

The Santa Ana brothers even specialize in the same event—the broad jump.

The elder Paul as a sophomore in 1929 was taken east with the Trojan I. C. 4-A team and earned three points for Southern California by placing third in this historic meet with a leap of 24 feet, 27-8 inches in the broad jump. Last year as a junior, Howard jumped further than he did in 1929, 24 feet, 43-8 inches, but the boys were doing some phenomenal jumping that day and he only could get fourth. Nevertheless, the two points helped Southern California win their third I. C. 4-A meet.

One week later, at the N. C. A. A. meet at Chicago, Howard pulled a muscle in his right leg, an old injury, and did not place. This year, Howard thought that he would learn to jump with his left leg hitting the take-off board, but he has not been able to get the power behind his kick that he did when jumping off his right leg. He has therefore been strengthening his right leg by a series of exercises he has devised himself. He says that if he pulls that muscle again he will be through for the season. If Howard's leg holds up, he should be in top shape when Southern California meets Stanford at Palo Alto May 2 in the classic dual meet of the year.

Norman was a great athlete at Santa Ana high school, and is continuing his remarkable performances as a freshman this year at Southern California. While he can throw the shot and the javelin better than average, he has been concentrating on the broad jump and 220-yard low hurdles and has been doing well in these events. He has run the low hurdles in 24-5, and has broad-jumped 23 feet, 4 inches already, and undoubtedly will better these marks before the end of the year.

Norman is destined to become one of the greatest athletes to enroll at Southern California because he has wonderful co-ordination, lots of speed and a strong body. Norman is a natural athlete, while Howard has made himself into a broad jump star by dint of hard work.

No wonder Dean Cronwell, the Trojans' "head man" of the cindepath, remembers this strain from an old song hit—"Tell me, tell me, are there any more at home like you?"—when he reflects on the Paul boys.

PROGRAM HELD AT SESSION OF WOMAN'S CLUB

PLACENTIA, April 2.—Quantities of tall white irises mingled with smaller flowers of white and yellow decorated the Round Table clubhouse Wednesday and provided a most appropriate setting for the Easter musicale featuring Mrs. Shirley Shaw, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Shaw was introduced by Mrs. William McLellan. After the prelude to the "Coming of the King," played by her accompanist, Edna Carpenter West, the singer, dressed in a simple white gown, took her place upon the platform and gave the Easter story in a group of songs which included "Mary the Mother," by Paul Bliss; "A Legend of the Child Jesus," Tschakowsky; "Christ Went Up Into the Hills," by Richard Hageman; "A Ballad of Trees and the Master," G. W. Chadwick; a piano number, "March to Calvary," by Theodore Dubois, followed by two vocal numbers also by Dubois, "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me," and "All Ye People," "The Two Mothers," and "The Return From the Cross," by Paul Bliss, the "Resurrection," by Shelly, and "The Almighty," by Franz Schubert, followed by an encore number, "Sheep and Lambs," by Sidney Homer.

At the business session, presided over by Mrs. Arthur Staley, delegates were elected to the state and county conventions. The state convention will be held at Fresno April 12 and delegates are Mrs. Louis Jacobson and Mrs. William McLellan, with Mrs. T. L. McFadden and Mrs. A. L. Anderson as alternates.

The county convention will be held April 14 at Fullerton, delegates are Mrs. E. E. Knight, Mrs. S. C. Hartman, Mrs. W. J. Travers and Mrs. William Wallop, while alternates are Mrs. S. S. Twombly, Mrs. L. T. Gillilan, Mrs. Spence and Mrs. Gerald Young.

In answer to a request from Mrs. T. L. McFadden, chairman of the by-products division of the Orange county fair and orange show, to be held June 4-14, the club voted to enter an exhibit.

Mrs. W. W. Blackmer gave a Federation News report on China, as seen by a group of Pomona college students, and Mrs. S. S. Twombly gave an international relations report on India and Mahatma Gandhi.

Mrs. Louis Jacobson, incoming president, announced the members of her program committee, Mrs. W. J. Carmichael, Mrs. Salveson and Mrs. Rospaw.

Mrs. Lottie Morse, at whose Altadena home the next meeting is to be held, gave a personal invitation to everyone to be present. Tea was served at a table decorated with flowers in Easter colors and tall white tapers, by the hostesses of the afternoon, Mrs. T. L. McFadden, Mrs. Story, Mrs. Timmons, Mrs. John Tuffree, Mrs. John Drew, Mrs. Cuff, Mrs. Rothaermal and Mrs. Lang.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT ROCKNE LIFE STORY

blame for Notre Dame's 20-13 defeat at the hands of Nebraska in 1915. He scouted the Nebraska team and reported to Notre Dame players that Chamberlain, the Cornhuskers' halfback never cut back when he ran with the ball, and always hooked his fingers before throwing a forward pass.

When Rock Was Wrong
In the first half Notre Dame's defense swung wide to stop Chamberlain and he cut back and ran 40 yards for a touchdown.

With the score tied, 13-13, Chamberlain started an end run, stopped suddenly and threw a long pass for a touchdown. He did not lick his fingers and the Notre Dame defense did not expect a pass.

Although his first team lost to the Michigan Aggies, 13-7, Rockne's first real defeat did not come until his fourth year as head coach in 1921. His 1919 and 1920 teams had gone through undefeated seasons, and the 1921 team had won its first two games, giving Notre Dame a record of 20 straight victories unmarred by a tie. This was Rockne's longest winning streak although his 1929 and 1930 teams ran up 19 straight victories and he would have been certain to equal or better his record with his 1931 team if he had lived.

Jones Stopped Irish March
Iowa, coached by Howard Jones, now Southern California mentor, stopped Notre Dame's victorious march by beating the Irish, 10-7, in a thrilling game. Rockne accepted his defeat gracefully and cautioned his players not to offer any alibi for the setback. The Notre Dame eleven won the rest of its games in 1921, defeating Purdue, Nebraska and Army in its big games.

Thus in Rockne's first four seasons as head coach his team won 31 games, lost two and tied two—perhaps the greatest record ever made by any coach at the very start of his career.

Rockne constructed five undefeated, untied teams and during the past year he was constantly asked which was his greatest team. He conferred that honor on the 1920 team which defeated Nebraska, Army, Purdue, Indiana and Northwestern in its major games.

His Greatest Team
On this team was the immortal George Gipp, who went into the Indiana game with his team trailing and led his teammates to a 13-10 victory despite a broken collar bone. Some of the other great players on this team were Norman Barry, "Hunk" Anderson, Roger Kiley, Paul Castner, Joe Brandy, Arthur Garvey, Harry Mehre, Johnny Mohardt and Chet Wynne.

"I consider the 1920 team my greatest," Rockne said during the 1930 season, "and I see no reason to change my opinion at this time."

Few close to Rockne doubt, however, that he ranked his 1930 team as the equal of the 1920 team and he would have eventually accorded

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of unshin.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute.—Adv.

THE man with the lawn-mower is going to work earlier than he expected. Two weeks ago, he was all worried about his poor lawn. It looked thin and patchy—starved! Then he fed the grass with Loma—and lo and behold! today it is a carpet of thick, velvety green.

YOU'LL hardly believe your eyes when you see how Loma—the scientific plant food—makes grass grow. Just sift it over the lawn. Wet it down thoroughly. That's all. Work it into the soil—your flowers will be more beautiful, with more colorful blooms. Your vegetables will be the talk of the neighborhood. Call your dealer in lawn, garden and florists' supplies and tell him you want Loma. He carries it in convenient-sized packages and sacks; and also has Loma spreader for larger areas. Churches Of County Plan Easter Sunrise Services

MANY SPECIAL PROGRAMS ARE TO BE GIVEN

With many sunrise services planned for Easter morning and a large number of special programs and cantatas being prepared, churches and congregations of Orange county are making elaborate preparations to celebrate the anniversary of the resurrection of Jesus over 1900 years ago.

The union sunrise services of Orange are expected to be the largest in point of attendance, for all the major churches are co-operating. S. M. Eldsath will be the speaker for the meeting on Orange Heights at the hour of sunrise. Placentia is also planning union services on Tuffree hill at 5:30 a. m., under the auspices of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce.

Two sunrise services are being planned by the First Baptist and Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, South, of Santa Ana. The young people of the Baptist church have invited the entire congregation to join in the services near Irvine park. The party leave the church at 4:45 a. m., according to present plans. The dawn service of the Methodist group also is in charge of the young people and will be held at the church at 6:30 a. m. In the evening at this church, an Easter cantata will be given with James Nuckolls directing.

The fifth early morning meeting will be on the Knoll of Carbon canyon sunrise service. The Rev. J. Heald, formerly superintendent of the Congregational churches of New Mexico, will officiate with the assistance of Mrs. C. A. Purington, a resident of Carbon canyon. A large attendance is expected from the surrounding country.

The Alamitos Friends church will hold Easter sunrise services at Alamitos at 5:30 a. m., the Rev. Paul Younger, pastor, announced today.

A reading will be given by Lucile Shackelford, with a solo, "The Holy City," by Wendell Jones. Breakfast will be served at 6:20 a. m. Mrs. W. O. Broady is in charge of reservations.

Sunday school will be held at 9:45 a. m., with the sermon at 11 o'clock on "Resurrection Significance." The evening topic will be "From Devil to Divinity."

The Mexican people of Orange county will join in a sunrise service at Panorama Heights under the auspices of the Epworth league of the Mexican Methodist Episcopal church of Santa Ana.

Virtually every church in Santa Ana will have some type of special entertainment sometime during Easter. Several are planning to give cantatas and appropriate playlets but the majority have arranged for typical Easter songs, readings and selections. Many churches will hold baptismal services and all the pastors will deliver Easter sermons.

The First Methodist church will offer the cantata, "The Crucified" in place of the regular evening service. It will be given by the choir under the direction of Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh.

The First United Brethren church will give a cantata at 7:30 p. m., under the direction of Miss Mary Harlow. D. F. Lehmer will direct the production, "Resurrection Morn" at the Church of the Brethren at 7 p. m.

A two-week series of daily pre-Easter evangelistic meetings will be culminated Sunday at the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, South, with the presentation of the cantata in the evening.

San Clemente will hold a sunrise service on the hills east of the city, with Dr. Robert M. Hognath, rector of St. Clement's By-the-Sea, in charge.

Thousands of persons from northern Orange county are expected to attend the annual Easter sunrise services at Hillcrest park Sunday.

Service clubs of Fullerton again will assist those who plan to attend the service by providing transportation from various points throughout Fullerton. The Boy Scouts will assist the police in handling the traffic and parking at the early morning hour, according to the Rev. B. D. Snudden, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, in charge of the program.

The program for the occasion provided by the Fullerton Ministerial union follows:

Francis Hawes, pastor of the First Baptist church of Fullerton; special music, hymn, sermon, Dr. Graham C. Dudley Snudden in charge.

URGES CLUBS TO HELP FILL JAIL LIBRARY

Judge James L. Allen, carrying out his idea that prisoners in jails and prisons should be educated against crime and that if the criminal is educated he will be less likely to commit crimes, declared today that he intended to write letters to every service club in the county in an effort to obtain books for the inmates of the county jail. He also hopes to work out a plan whereby citizens of the community will donate books.

In speaking of the crime situation Judge Allen declared that an interview of Emmett Dalton, 40 year old survivor of the famous "Dalton Boys," once noted outlaws, with Governor Rolph, provided sound material for thought in regard to the situation.

Dalton stated that he favored teaching men in prisons trades and in this manner giving them something else to depend on except criminal activities. He declared that if hope is taken away from human beings they become nothing but animals, and that it is the mental attitude of the criminal that counts.

THREE NIGHTS SET ASIDE FOR PLAY CONTEST

Such enthusiastic response came from little theater groups of Southern California to announcement of the 1931 Southern California tournament of one act plays to be held in this city in mid-April according to the custom established five years ago by the Santa Ana Community Players' association, that the original plan to conduct the event on two nights, had to be changed and instead the tournament will open on April 16, and continue for three nights.

Various social features are being planned by members of the host association for the entertainment of their guests, but chief interest lies in the entrants and the programs to be of nightly occurrence. Twelve groups have entered into the competition, some representing college dramatic organizations, others being on the general plan of the Santa Ana association, while one in particular, the San Diego Community Players, draws its membership from five towns, Cardiff, Del Mar, Encinitas, Rancho Santa Fe and Solano Beach.

Productions as well as all social affairs with the exception of the tournament dinners to be held in the Ketner cafe, will be in Ebell clubhouse, while hotel headquarters will be at Santa Ana hotel.

The curtain will rise promptly at 8 o'clock nightly on the stage of the clubhouse auditorium and on Thursday night the Touchstone Drama shop of University of Southern California will launch the three-night play program, "At Last Civilized," an ultra-modern comedy,

TEACHER GOES FISHING IN DESERT WILDS OF ARIZONA

Some pretty tall fish stories have been pulled in Santa Ana from time to time but one of the newest and tallest was brought to light today by Charles L. Tibbetts, woodshop teacher at the Santa Ana High school, who has just returned from a trip to Arizona and who solemnly told of hunting fish with a shotgun and pitchfork in the middle of the desert.

Since Tibbetts is well known in Santa Ana and it was too cool in Arizona to suspect a sunstroke, the fishy tale bears retelling. While visiting with relatives near Phoenix, Tibbetts was taken on a fishing trip into some waterlogged territory near a large slough.

The only fishing apparatus the party carried was an old shotgun and sharp pitchfork but the catch consisted of four large carp that tipped the scale for a total of 32 pounds.

According to Tibbetts, the luckless fish were found in shallow pools of water, killed with the shotgun and forked out with the pitchfork. One of the carp was even harpooned with the fork without the formality of using the gun. Tibbetts is still puzzled over his queer experience and although he says he has hunted fish in lakes, rivers, oceans and even chased grunion along the sand, the idea of fishing with a shotgun and pitchfork in the desert has them all beat.

EASTER THEME FEATURED FOR MORNING CLUB

The meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club at Ketner's cafe early today was featured by an address on Easter by the Rev. Harry Evan Owings, president of the organization and pastor of the First Baptist church. The speaker spoke of a number of vital ways in which the Easter season touches the lives of all and gave a new meaning to the season for those who heard him.

The Vaughan Radio quartet, which is heard over KREG in the daily services broadcast by the Church of the Nazarene, sang a group of Negro melodies and spirituals.

Approximately 18 candidates for city and school offices were present at the meeting and each gave a one-half minute talk explaining why he or she had entered the race.

B. Z. McKinney acted as master of ceremonies and the program was arranged by a committee headed by James Anderson.

Guests at the session were Mary Clamfoni and Allen Lair.

The program committee for next Thursday is C. F. Skirvin and Guy Gilbert.

Tables were decorated with a profusion of Easter flowers provided by the Bouquet shop.

Players Will Discuss Noted Playwright At Barn Meeting

Charles Rann Kennedy and his plays will be featured on the entertainment program at The Barn tonight at 7:45 o'clock, when Santa Ana Community Players will have their final informal monthly meeting before the annual Spring tournament of One-Act Plays of April 16, 17 and 18.

Of course the approaching tournament will be one of the chief features of discussion, and members of the committee will tell of their activities in preparation for entertaining one of the largest crowds ever gathering for these annual events. For Players feel justified in expecting an unusual attendance because of the large number of Little Theater groups entered in the competitive contest. Twelve communities have made reservations, and announced their plans for the tournament.

Harriet Owens Enderle will direct tonight's program, which promises to be one of excellent balance and decided interest. Mrs. Enderle will read Kennedy's well-known play, "The Terrible Meek," which aroused such interest by its message of peace. Mrs. Robert Horn will discuss the "Life and Works of Charles Rann Kennedy," and variety will be given by musical numbers to be played by young artists from Elwood Bear's studio.

Membership in the Players is open to anyone interested, and the meetings in The Barn (on McCloy street just south of East Fourth street), are open to all.

Luncheon Climaxes Morning Business Meeting

A most delightful climax to a morning meeting in the I. O. O. F. hall was shared yesterday by members of the Social Order of the Beauceant, for as soon as the business meeting was concluded they adjourned to the home of Mrs. Heston Diers, 1115 North Main street, where a tempting luncheon was served, and the gracious hospitality of the home attracted a large group of members and their husbands as special guests.

A long table prettily decorated with roses and other spring flowers served as the setting for the affair, and scattered at intervals over the gleaming linen were bright-hued eggs. Tall pink candles in brass holders added a soft glow, and at each place were Easter eggs with favors. The committee assisting Mrs. Diers in serving included Mrs. W. N. Belding, Mrs. L. Bishop, Mrs. B. E. Dawson, A special guest of the day, Mrs. Diers' granddaughter, Mrs. Dorothy Andrews, aided the hostess in making plans for the affair.

Afternoon hours were devoted to sewing articles to be used in charity work. As a feature of the afternoon, Mrs. Diers passed around a large basket of Easter eggs, with instructions for each guest to guess the number of eggs. Mrs. P. L. Tople succeeded in winning the prize.

Lovely Santa Ana Girl Wins Dramatic Honor At U. S. C.

That Miss Mary Clamfoni, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Clamfoni of this city and Los Angeles, has been chosen for the role of "Portia" in the University of Southern California production of "Merchant of Venice," was the gratifying news learned today by Santa Ana friends of the brilliant young girl.

"The Merchant of Venice," to be given Monday night, June 1, will be the outstanding dramatic event of the year at the university, and the choice of Miss Clamfoni for the leading role of "Portia," is one of the biggest honors that the dramatic department of the university can bestow. There were several hundred students in the initial try-outs for the part, including all of the feminine students enrolled in the school of speech.

Miss Clamfoni has been an expression and drama student of Gladys Simpson Shafer of the city for several years and prepared for the Shakespearean role under Mrs. Shafer, so the latter's pride in her talented young pupil's achievement, is a very deep and personal one. While Miss Clamfoni was a student at Santa Ana high school she took prominent part in dramatic productions, and played the lead in "Lilies of the Field," the senior play of her graduation year. Entering the university last fall, she speedily took active part in college dramas, and won much acclaim for her interpretation of "Emily Dixon" in the underclass play, "The Haunted House," given in the early winter.

Her sister, Miss Margaret Clamfoni, is a senior at the university, where she is majoring in modern languages. The lovely young sisters are members of Delta Zeta sorority.

Ann Makes a Discovery

"Needs must"—has mothered a lot of discoveries! Yesterday, coming in from a garden grubbing session, I was dog-tired and wanted a cup of tea in the worst way, but the effort to boil the water and get down the teapot was too much for me. Just then it occurred to me that a cup of the hot vegetable soup simmering on the stove wouldn't be half bad, so soup it was!

I tried to taste the boiling hot liquid and got burnt for my trouble; just then my eye lit on the pitcher of freshly made tomato juice cocktail and a little of it was added to cool the hot soup. It was the magic touch!

Tomato is one of the flavors which loses its identity with long cooking, but using it this way, every vestige of tannic acid flavor shows up in the solidly flavored soup. Try it next time you have this soup.

Of course there were subtle flavors in the tomato juice cocktail which cannot be overlooked. I make mine this way.

Press two large cans of tomato through a sieve, add the juice of two lemons, a tablespoonful of finely minced green pepper, a small pinch of cayenne, and enough salt and black pepper to suit your taste. The tomato will be quite thick. Allow it to settle and pour off the top for the first serving of tomato cocktails, next time add a small amount of water and stir well, perhaps a bit more lemon juice, and so on, until the quantity is used up.

The generous amounts of vitamin C make tomato juice a fine starter for the day. Serve it for breakfast, alternating with orange or grapefruit. You will find that the male side of your family will vote for it every time.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Oyster Loaf
1 small loaf of white bread
1 quart large oysters (solid pack)
2 cups very thick cream sauce
Melted butter
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon minced parsley

There is one little trick to be learned in making an oyster loaf which can be sliced down without the oysters and sauce running all over creation!

Wash and prepare the oysters as usual, and turn into a sieve to drain. Just before the oysters are combined with the cream sauce turn the sieve filled with oysters into a saucepan of boiling water, give them a quick stir and as soon as the edges begin to ruffle take off the fire and drain through the sieve. This is all the cooking they need (save the broth from their "ruffling" for oyster broth for some other meal).

Make 3 cups of cream sauce and place it in the top of a double boiler. It must be very thick, so for 2 cups of milk use 1/4 pound of butter blended with 2-3 cup of flour, and appropriate seasonings. Cook this sauce thoroughly before and after putting over hot water—half an hour won't hurt it. While the sauce is simmering in the double boiler and the oysters are cooling their heels in the sieve, prepare the loaf.

Cut the top off a loaf of fresh white bread and carefully scoop out the inside, leaving the crusty sides to make a box. Toast inside and out—and don't forget to toast the lid for the top. Brush quickly with melted butter and put in a warm oven until the oysters are ready.

Fold the ruffled oysters into the hot cream sauce, pour into the toast box, sprinkle top with parsley, put on the lid and serve IMMEDIATELY.

An oyster loaf of this size should serve six people. The calories are a good 2200, with oodles of rich foods in the total to make energy and dangerous curves for those who can't use said energy.

Two-in-One dinners, the current fad, would carry over the oyster broth, the by-product left from ruffling the oysters, and would serve it as delicious oyster broth with whipped cream. That's what I mean by two-in-one dinners, time, energy and money savers for you. The leaflet can be had free of charge, this week only, by mailing me a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lima Bean Roast for tomorrow.

Flower Show to Offer Unusual Variety In Its Exhibits

Flower lovers and members of the Garden section of Ebell are busy grooming their choicest plants and blooms, getting them ready for the Spring Flower show to be held Thursday and Friday, April 9 and 10, in the Ebell clubhouse.

The desire of the section to make the event larger and more interesting each year brings out new and novel displays, according to the leader, Mrs. Walter E. Watkins. This year again will feature a display of roses from Ontario (Armstrong's Nurseries) flowers and the famous cherries of Howard and Smith, Montebello nursery, also rare and new shrubs from the Quail Ridge Plant gardens, Pasadena, in addition to the lavish blossoms entered by amateur gardeners. Fine specimens of begonias from a local grower and arranged baskets from florists of this city have been promised to add to the decorative scheme.

One of the most interesting new exhibits will be from the nursery of the famous Rancho Santa Ana near Yorba, owned by Mrs. Susanne Bixby Bryant and given over to the culture of native California flowers, shrubs and trees, many varieties will be shown for the first time.

This section will also use other wild flowers in basket or vases in a competitive way.

The Spring Flower show would not be complete without the aid of the school children. Posters have been made by the Junior high students and a picture to be hung in their school hall will be given for the best poster. Prizes for the best baskets from this group will be given and a cup is offered to the Mexican school having the best display.

The Women's clubs of the county and the Ebell sections will bring in their best baskets of blooms for cash prizes. Many other features such as plants, bulbs and home-made candies will be on sale.

The patio will be filled with garden and patio furniture, pottery, bird baths, vases and baskets to be used to beautify the garden.

A program of music, fancy dancing and readings will be given on Thursday evening, with a fashion show featured on Friday evening.

In addition the Day Nursery board of which Mrs. W. V. Kays is chairman, will serve luncheon on the opening day to the workers assembled in readiness for the opening at 4 p.m., and a lunch menu on Friday, the second day, for the general public. These appetizing home-cooked menus have always been one of the appreciated features of the flower show, both spring and fall. The Day Nursery section, in addition to planning for this feature, is perfecting plans for a gala affair on Friday, May 1, in the form of a card party in the home of Ebell's president, Mrs. Robert G. Tuthill, 2035 Victoria drive.

Friday of this week a committee from the Garden section will act as judges of the amateur section at the Laguna Beach Flower show, held Friday and Saturday, April 3 and 4.

Auxiliary Glee Club To Give May Dance

At their rehearsal of Monday night in Lawrence hall, members of the American Legion Glee club auxiliary launched plans for a big May party and dance which they will give on Friday night, May 8, in Ebell clubhouse. Mrs. Josephine Lykke was named as general chairman and will announce her different committees at an early date.

The important feature of music was decided at once however, and the Norman Morgan orchestra was selected.

The Glee club rehearsals directed by Cecil Fross Willis, will continue as weekly features in Lawrence hall, where the singers are already planning for the numbers which they will sing at the state convention to be held in Long Beach in August. At that time they will meet other Legion auxiliary glee clubs and choruses in competition for state honors, the successful group to be chosen to represent California at the national convention.

Sycamore Rebekahs

One of the largest gatherings of the spring season for Sycamore Rebekah lodge, enjoyed the recent social meeting of the order when a covered dish dinner was served in the basement dining room of I. O. O. F. hall. Women of the lodge had decreed that it would be an old-fashioned party with no formality, and in accordance with their plan, appeared in trim little house-frocks of gingham and print. The effect was really quite pleasing, some of the dresses being especially charming in color and design.

Mrs. Esther Gardner and Mrs. Ruby Greeley formed the supper committee responsible for the serving of the many delicious dishes brought by the Rebekahs and their families. Mrs. Maude Wiley and Mrs. Fannie Lacy Taylor were responsible for the entertainment features, and introduced some old-time games which everyone found unusually enjoyable.

MAN OF WORLD WITH POWELL NOW HERE

Climaxing a series of smashing dramas, "Street of Chance," "For the Defense," "Shadow of the Law," William Powell comes to the Fox West Coast theater starting today in "Man of the World," considered the most intense and colorful drama of this suave actor's astonishing career.

As the gentleman blackmailer, snared by a past he wants to forget, stirred by a love he is forbidden to tell, Powell gives a stirring portrayal in an exciting and moving plot. Supporting the star in the leading feminine role, Carole Lombard, blonde beauty seen in "It Pays to Advertise," "Fast and Loose," adds a piquant charm to the tragic demands of her part. Wynne Gibson, who showed to advantage in Jack Oakie's "June Moon," is the "other" woman, an intriguing character, neither all good nor all bad, which Miss Gibson brings to life with remarkable realism.

"Man of the World" presents Powell as the under-cover editor of a Parisian gossip-newspaper whose chief revenue is obtained from wealthy Americans anxious to keep their gay doings from their friends at home. As a blackmailer, Powell is ruthless; but manages to keep his identity so well hidden that even his victims believe him their friend.

When Powell falls madly in love with an American girl whose uncle has contributed to his hush fund, he realizes the depths to which he has sunk. The girl confesses her love for him, and even when Powell tells her his story, she refuses to give him up.

'TOM SAWYER' ENDS RUN HERE TONIGHT

The kids get a break in films once again. This time three youngsters play the leads in one of the most famous stories ever translated to the screen—"Tom Sawyer," the immortal classic from the pen of Mark Twain.

Jackie Coogan, whose fame has increased since the days of "The Kid," is seen in the title role. His partner in boyhood devilry, Huckleberry Finn, is played by Junior Durkin, the lad who amazed Broadway by his work in Janet Beecher's "Courage" on the stage. Becky Thatcher, Tom's flaxen-haired sweetheart, is portrayed by little Mitzi Green, the nine-year-old marvel who has become one of screenland's idols in little less than a year's time.

"Tom Sawyer" is closing tonight at Walker's State.

INSOMNIA? LIARS

MILWAUKEE—Insomnia is nothing more or less than a serious case of prevarication, and, according to Dr. J. L. Garvey, former assistant professor of neurology at the University of Michigan, its chief cure is self-treatment. "It is a well known fact that most insomniacs are liars about their own conditions," he says. "They often worry about not sleeping, and the fear of not being able to sleep is as bad as the lack of sleep."

FOX BROADWAY SHOWS 'SKIPPY' FOR 3 DAYS

"Skippy," the boy of America, is now in pictures. Crosby's dailies cartoon hero who typifies the American boy more than any other, is seen in one of the greatest children's pictures ever made, starting today at the Fox Broadway theater.

But, "Skippy" is for grownups too. There is not a father or a big brother or mother in Santa Ana who will not like "Skippy," not only for its entertainment, but for the heartaches and the laughs they will get out of it.

The picture, based on the cartoon strip, of course, tells the story of the kid that thousands of Americans read about every day. It shows his habits, his joys and his sorrows and there is a human appeal throughout the picture that will go straight home to everyone in the audience.

But for the children is the biggest appeal. With a cast completely made up of the child prodigies of Hollywood, "Skippy" is sure to be a riot for the children of Santa Ana.

Be sure it's Kotex

if you want safe, sanitary protection

SAFETY! Security! A feeling of real protection—your simply must have those qualities in a sanitary pad. And to get them it is wise to specify Kotex.

Kotex, you know, is the sanitary pad that is shaped to fit. It absorbs laterally, which means that you get a larger area of protection than ordinary pads give you.

And you can wear Kotex on either side in perfect safety. It gives you the same degree of efficiency. Kotex stays soft. It is treated to deodorize. It is so easy to dispose of. Assures you of that daintiness particular women demand at all times.

Hospitals use quantities of Kotex for their women patients. They find nothing else so satisfactory.

THE KNYMITES
 STORY BY HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK
 REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

When Clowny found that he'd been tricked, he smiled and said, "All right, I'm hooked, but now I want some real pop. I am thirsty as can be. I think the joke, ere I'm through, will be on all the rest of you. When you are finished with your pop, I'll still have mine, you see."

And he was right. The bunch were through and then, the next thing that they knew, wee Clowny held his bottle high and cried, "Who wants a taste?" Of course they all cried out, "We do!" But wee Clowny snapped, "It's not for you. I'm going to drink it all and not one be trying to waste."

He began to drink it down too quick upon himself he played a trick. The pop clogged up within his throat and he began to choke. Kind Scouty cried, "You'll be all right. I'll slap your back with all my might." The others laughed and Clowny said, "This isn't any joke."

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letter cannot be changed.

MEDICAL WATER HISTORIC GIVEN FOR BREA C. C.

BREA, April 2.—L. S. Phelps, vice president and secretary of the LaVida Mineral Water company in Carbon canyon, addressed the Brea Chamber of Commerce yesterday. Phelps outlined the history of the mineral water project from the time in 1899, when oil prospectors abandoned the hole because of their inability to shut off the water at 2035 feet.

Charles C. Kinsler, city recorder, added a bit of local interest to Mr. Phelps' talk by stating that he was one of the drillers on the well and that he and Isaac Craig, a pioneer of this district, then placed the tub which stood for many years and from which passersby drank.

Phelps entered a membership for his company in the chamber of commerce and invited the members to hold a meeting at LaVida Springs as the guests of the company. He stated that whenever possible all the supplies of the company were bought in Brea and that with two exceptions its 14 regular employees live in Brea. Just now they are employing six extra men, all of whom live in Brea.

The speaker was introduced by C. O. Harvey, program chairman. No progress was reported on the matter of change in schedule of Motor Transit buses, L. A. Hogue, chairman of the committee, stating that officials of the company had made no reply to the inquiries laid before them by the committee.

President Harlan LeGros named Hogue, Jack Phillips and W. D. Shaffer as representative of the chamber to meet throughout the year with the city council at the invitation of the latter body.

At the suggestion of Phillips, it was unanimously voted to draft a resolution giving unqualified endorsement of the chamber to the efforts of Ted Craig, assemblyman from Orange county. Copies of the resolution will be mailed to other chambers of commerce in the county and a copy will be sent to Craig.

E. M. McDonald announced in behalf of the telephone girls of Brea that two basketball games will be played here in the high school gymnasium on the evening of April 17. The games will be played by employees of the telephone company, one being Santa Ana vs. Long Beach, the other Pomona vs. Coronado.

LAGUNA WINS IN SUIT OVER TITLE

LAGUNA BEACH was given the decision in the suit filed by Stillman B. Jamieson to get title to the foot of Ruby street, claimed by him by purchase from the original owners.

Jamieson bought lots adjacent to the street and made a proposition by which he would give the city a right of way to the beach if the city would quit claim to him. This the city refused to do and also refused, through Building Inspector Floyd W. Case to issue a building permit which would place a residence partly on the disputed property. In a suit to cause the city to issue a building permit Mr. Jamieson was unsuccessful.

Citizens in Arch Beach are also much interested in a quiet title suit which seeks to reclaim for the city the right to Sugarloaf, a promontory on the ocean front which passed out of public possession and use. A right of way to the beach at that point is also being sought.

JUDGMENT BASED ON INFORMATION

Election is upon us and interest is increasing in the campaign as it proceeds. It is unfortunate that people cannot keep a greater interest in the affairs of the great municipal corporation, of which they are a part all the time, rather than confining it simply to the period of campaign, when it is difficult to get at the facts and exercise real judgment.

The voters are unquestionably scrutinizing the activities of their officials more closely now than they do during prosperous times. During those periods, we are all taking "joy-rides." Money flows like water. We are indifferent to expense, that is, some of us are. May we suggest that, municipally speaking, most of the people are during good times.

In other words, frequently they would rather let the expenses mount than to study the situation and exercise themselves in the interest of economy. On the other hand, there are some people who, even during periods of good times, know that there is a rainy day coming, and from the standpoint of public interest and public expenditure, are as careful as at any other time.

Whatever may be the cause, however, the public now is interested in the situation. The Register aims between now and election, to place the facts concerning the activities of our public officials, both of the trustees and of the school board, before the people, as far as time and space will permit.

These will be published for informational purposes, and not for the purpose of electing or defeating any particular candidates. If by any chance, there is any mistake in any of these articles or there is any additional information that the people should know concerning any particular feature of them, we invite any of the citizens of Santa Ana to call our attention to any omission or need for correction, and it will be made on the day following the publication of the article in each case.

If democracy is to properly function, it must depend on information. No man's judgment can be better than his information. The citizens of our city and the children in our public schools are of more value than the success of any particular candidates who espouse to public office.

As far as it is possible, let us avoid being absorbed in personalities. Let us learn the situation and consider personalities only as the vehicles to carry ideas into effect.

Then there was the young bride who grew suddenly jealous when her husband revealed he was in love with his work.

DEAN INGE SPEAKS AGAIN

Dean Inge, of St. Paul's, London, is quoted more than any other public man in England. He has a faculty of saying striking things. Generally he is critical and gloomy; but recently he made the statement that we here in America spend 22 billion dollars a year for play, and he adds that it is a very good investment for the American people.

We are pleased to know that the dean sees something to commend, for most of the time he is on the other side of the line. Coming from that source, it may quiet the complaints of many who think America has gone pleasure-mad. This high price of amusement reminds us of the man who said in a public address that we were spending an extravagant number of millions of dollars for cosmetics and perfumes, and that it was a great waste. But, he said afterwards, that he took a New York Subway train from the Battery to 42nd street one day, and concluded that the amount expended for perfumery was not half enough. Some of us who know the New York Subway can appreciate that.

Amusement, however, reflects the extent of a people's prosperity, and we may be very certain that the proportion spent for amusement is conditioned by the extent of our prosperity. Those who are familiar with the amusement business in this country at the present time know that the first thing that people give up when hard times hit them is amusement. The theaters, the movies, the summer resorts and winter resorts, and every other form of amusement have been very hard hit. Moreover, we agree with Dean Inge that legitimate amusement is a very good investment. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." The old proverb still holds.

WHO OWNS THE COUNTRY?

Harry W. Laidler of the League for Industrial Democracy states that two great corporations own half the iron ore of the country, four most of the copper, six half the electricity, one three-quarters of the telephone service, and one a large part of the telegraph service. Then he goes on to say that one man is serving on fifty boards of directors of large corporations, another on 80, still another on 70, and yet another on 32.

We wonder how these busy men can attend all the meetings of these boards. We presume they cannot. Then how can directors be expected to direct? They simply cannot. And as to the great corporate ownership of basic material, we wonder how long it will be before the government will have to step into all industry, not to own it, but to regulate it. So long as these great controlling interests serve the public well, and are not too anxious to take the lion's share, they may not be disturbed. That lesson is being learned. The desire to please the public has become the ruling motive of great corporations today. They have learned,—at least many of them have,—that the "public be damned" policy no longer works. It is a common slogan in business today, "the customer is always right." Not that it is always so, but it has been found to be a good working principle.

Corporations do well to be on their good behavior, especially if they have almost a monopoly control of their particular product. In these days of great combinations, only so will they stay the restless spirit which is bound to rise if the public gets the idea that it is being unfairly dealt with.

A sculptor has modeled a study head of a tramp. Thereby inviting critics to rate it as bum work.

THOUGHTS IN A FOREIGN FIELD

One of the modern artists has attempted to paint a picture of "Thought." The idea of suggesting the speed and variety of thought, in a painting, is intriguing. Dare we say more? Just thought is a different and more difficult thing to paint than the thoughts of a woman going to market or a business-man watching the ticker tape. Viewing an exhibition of the artist's pictures (he is Giorgio de Chirico) we saw one of a little house with some things like black iron scrolls placed here and there. Coming out of the window of the shack was one. We didn't stop to learn the title of the picture because, according to the creed of these moderns, it should suggest something or other to one as one looks at it. That it should suggest something to one looking at it is far more important a matter than trying to comprehend the idea in the mind of the artist who painted it—according to one theory of art. We are still wondering whether it suggested anything else than an argument on draperies going on in the little house. The only other earthly thought is: forget-me-not. That would very likely satisfy the artist.

Vocational Unemployment Relief

Christian Science Monitor

A program of vocational education may go far toward relieving unemployment in America, according to the Federal Board of Vocational Information. If industrial changes are anticipated far enough in advance, men destined to be thrown out of work because of the introduction of new machinery, operations and processes in industry may be trained and retained for other types of labor. To this end employees and employers have well been urged to keep vocational schools informed of new jobs for which workers may be trained.

According to this board, specific instances have demonstrated the practicability of such a plan. It relates this example:

A coal company in New York City decided, not long ago, to change from horse-driven trucks to motortrucks. This information was imparted to the union to which the drivers belonged. Instead of accepting the idea that discharge from work was inevitable, those members of the union purchased a truck, employed a competent instructor, and learned how to drive and make emergency repairs. A few months later when the president of the coal company explained to his workers the necessity of letting off the drivers of the horse-driven trucks, he was informed by the business agent of the union that the men were licensed motortruck operators.

Another case is reported from New Jersey, where a railroad decided to electrify its lines. Instead of discharging its steam locomotive engineers, it trained them, while electrification was taking place, to be electric locomotive engineers. In the automobile industry many machine operators, released during 1930 after having learned to perform only one or two simple operations, awoke to the potential value of night school vocational courses.

Thus the vocational school has a useful province in relieving technological unemployment by re-training for new jobs men thrown out of work. At one of the oldest and best known schools, in Denver, Colo., some 7000 students attend various courses each year.

With these facts in hand it is clear that employers, employees and unions throughout the country cannot be too strongly urged to furnish information to such schools concerning employment possibilities and changes of methods. For where the courses make for skilled labor, skilled labor brings about more efficient production, lower costs to the consumer and greater buying power; and these factors added together produce, as a natural result, greater buying power.

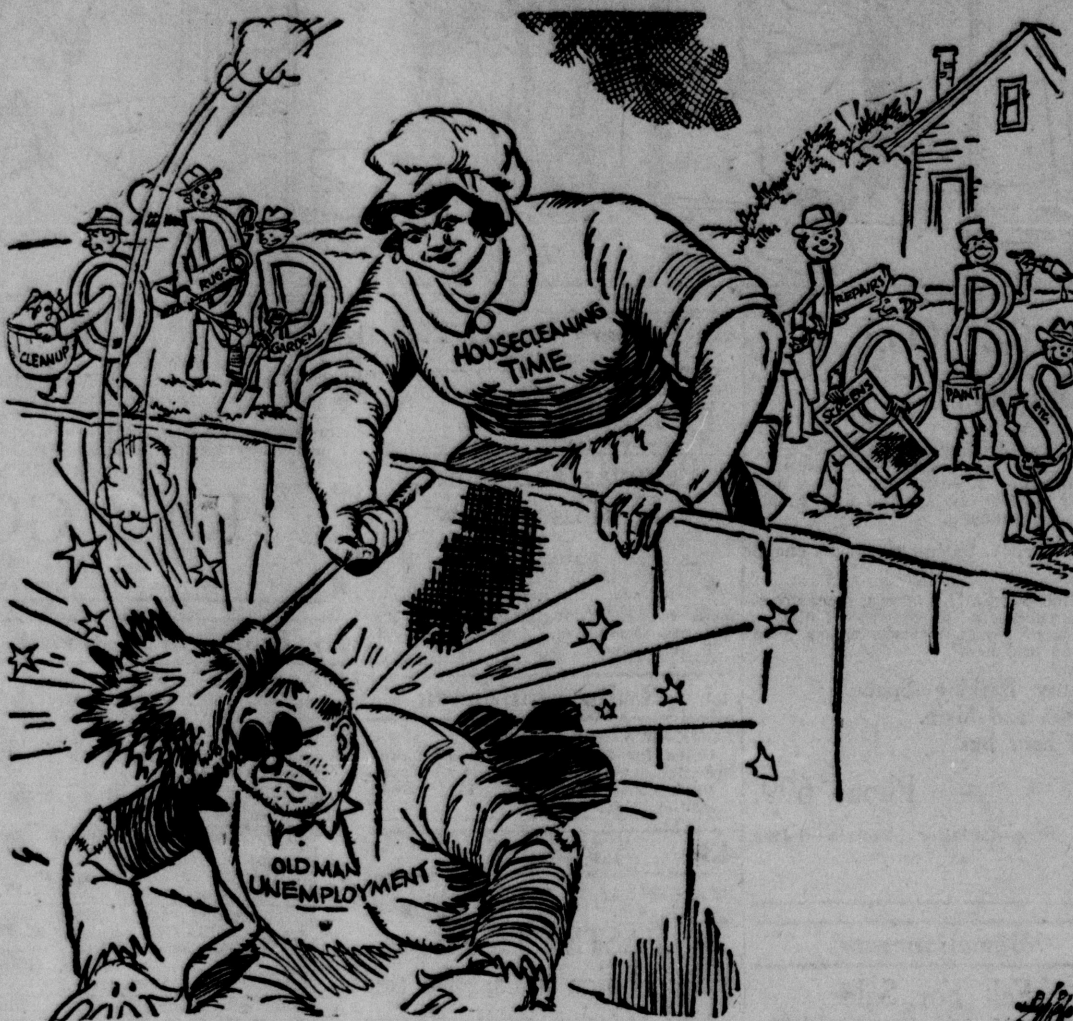

THURSDAY, APRIL 2
The Farewell Supper

(Read Luke 22:14-20. Text, Luke 22:15.)
And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer.

Apparently our Lord's wish to have the passover supper a farewell was in order that he might institute the ceremonial of remembrance. By simple and solemn rites the disciples, and all who were to come after them, would pledge again and again their loyalty to their Lord, and to one another. So they would be bound to Him, and bound together, until He comes.

PRAYER: Almighty God, unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hid: cleanse the thoughts of our hearts by the inspiration of thy Holy Spirit, that we may perfectly love thee, and worthily magnify thy holy name. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.—Gregorian Sacramentary.

More Truth Than Poetry

UP FROM BARBARISM

The origin of civilization is in man's determination to do nothing for himself which he can get done.—H. C. Bailey.

When first the cave man grew to be
An adult breadfruit winner,
He daily looked around to see
What might be had for dinner.
And as this errand he pursued,
He grew each year more jaded,
Because his necessary food
He had to get unaided.

When weariness began to pall
Because of too much labor,
The cave man promptly caught a small
But most industrious neighbor.
Thereafter he was wholly free
To play such games as skittles,
The while his self, from tree to tree,
Collected in the victuals.

And shortly every thinking man
Would never dream of budging;
He caught some member of his clan
And made him do the drudging.
He sat around and scratched his dome
From idleness effort shrinking.
The weaklings brought the bacon home
The while he did the thinking.

So gradually the wise and great
Have risen to the station
Which we, in this enlightened state,
Declare is civilization.
Yet somehow I don't like the plan;
All mental labors bore me.
I wish that I could catch some man
To do my thinking for me.

NECESSARY PRUDENCE

We constantly hear of Congressmen who are traveling about the country making speeches. It will be some time before any of them venture to go home.

Is It a Job for Engineers?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Way up among the Green Mountains of Vermont, far from the rush and roar of cities, men take time to think. At least, one of them does. His name is Ralph E. Flanders, and he is an engineer. Today we had a talk with him.

Engineers, he said, ought to find out how to exercise some control over business cycles. We have already solved the physical aspects of the problem. No longer are we playthings of natural forces. We know where we are going, and when, and why. We do not argue and dispute about things: we measure them.

And yet, through good times and bad, there runs, like the dull misery of a chronic ulcer, the fear of sickness and of old age, both sharpened by the fear of unemployment.

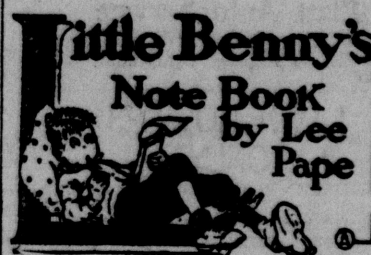

That is senseless. Plenty of working capital, factories ready to run, men eager to work, and eager to spend their wages in buying the products of their industry! Yes, a business depression like this one is senseless.

In the face of such a paradox, economists offer no clear guidance. For the most part, they are post-mortem investigators. Or merely mourners. They tell us what has happened—after we know only too well what has happened—and give their conflicting views as to causes. They argue and dispute. But only in rare moments of inspiration do they hint at adequate means of prevention.

In their own field, engineers have rendered the detailed, practical, demonstrably accurate service which, so far, economists have failed to render in the field of business. It is time that engineers grappled with the problem of the business cycle.

Mr. Flanders, engineer-like, does not content himself with talking. He is inducing the Engineering Council to act. We shall have more to say about that tomorrow.

O, was that still in my pocket, I suppose I haven't had time to tear it up, pop sed.

My goodness, does it take an infinite eternity to tear up a letter? ma sed. You're as superstitious as putty and you're afraid if you don't copy it off and send it to 8 other people you'll have bad luck. Do you want me to tear it up for you. Will you? she sed.

Why not, its nothing in my life, pop sed, and ma sed, All right, hear it goes in little unrecognizable fragments, and pop sed, Hold on, wait a minute.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

ON LOOKING AHEAD

This afternoon I spent an hour with an amiable, prosperous, and contented old man who is spending his declining years in the calm of a mid-western city.

He settled in this city as a pioneer, when the city was but a huddle of huts.

But he had foresight! He estimated the future of the city with brilliant accuracy.

Today he lives contentedly in a protected old age on the fruits of his foresight.

The same qualities that enabled this old man to estimate with brilliant accuracy the future trends of this even yet small mid-western city are the qualities that we must now bring to the innumerable novelties of trend that will mark the next fifty years in the social and economic development of America.

It is a different America that we face!

My aged friend laid the foundation of his fortune in an America and in an age marked by a very slow tempo.

The factors of change he had to forecast were not many; he could bank upon a relatively slow and stable sort of society.

But today things march with seven-league boots and with a racer's speed.

The forces of science and technology are remaking whole aspects of our life almost overnight.

The average man today assumes that the current trend toward the city will go on indefinitely.

But I suspect that the men, now entering their business and professional careers, who assume this uncritically may find that they have put their money on the wrong horse.

We may see a reversal of the trend toward the city, for there is hardly a single one of the reasons that in the past have led men to concentrate in cities that any longer remain valid.

We do not have to huddle behind city walls for protection any longer.

We do not have to mass human beings in a single center any longer in order to carry on manufacture which, for good or ill, is increasingly done by machines, and with power that can be transmitted across a continent.

I give but this one illustration of the deep changes that may be ahead, and that will compel us to master the art of foresight.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THAT FREE SCHOOL

"You believe in a free school, don't you?"

"Of course I do," said I, "the freer the better. Why?"

"I tried having one but I guess I'm not very good at it. Anyway something is the matter. Will you come in some day and look at my work and tell me what you think of it?"

This school room was a lovely place. Any child should have been glad to have stayed in it. There were pictures and models, and toys and books, toots and games. Pets, too, were there, and flowers and sunshine. A playground and even a tree for climbing stood by the wall.

Just can't seem to get anywhere with them. Unless I make them do something they do nothing but mess things up. They go from one thing to the other and I find at the end of the term that they have accomplished about nothing at all."

"Don't you tell them what is to be done? Suggest work and give them the materials and direct them how to use them?"

"But that would be imposing myself on the children and I don't want to do that."

Now that attitude is a good one for a teacher to hold. But when he or she, is teaching little children, it is to be held in the background. It is not to be expected that children can enter a classroom and teach themselves. If they could there would be no need for teachers. As it is teachers will be in demand as long as there are children. A teacher is a leader, first. She is a mother, next. She is an authority all the time.

Some things children will do without being held to the doing.

They will pick up a ball and play with it. So much they can be trusted to do. But they cannot, and for that reason, will not, teach themselves to read. That is the work of a highly skilled teacher. The best way we have found to teach reading and other things like it, is by way of method, regular lessons at a set time each day. No skipping a lesson, no shirking a mastery of words, phrases, sentences, the technique of reading are to be taught and learned. If the child goes past his language period without getting all the power out of it at this, its high tide, he is going to be handicapped for a lifetime. And I have never seen the child who did not need to be held to his routine.

Tables are to be learned early in school life and learned perfectly. Children in the early grades learn these things with ease and generally with pleasure provided they are taught them properly. The primary classes have the same dignity in their work, the same earnestness, and the same interest and pleasure in mastering the fundamentals of school work as do their seniors in the high school.

There is a freedom that is a delusion and a snare. There is a bondage that is a freedom and a joy. The bondage to duty, to the job in hand, makes for freedom from ignorance. The go-as-you-please idea makes for the bitter bondage of a soul trammelled by ignorance and its own error.

CHARLEMAGNE'S BIRTH

On April 2, 742, Charlemagne, French name of Charles the Great, king of the Franks and Roman emperor, was born in either Aix-la-Chapelle or Ingelheim.

Charlemagne began his conquests by crossing the Alps and completely subduing northern Italy. He was acknowledged King of Lombardy in 774. At Easter of this same year he visited Rome where the Pope conferred upon him the title "Patrician of Rome."

For several years thereafter Charlemagne made frequent expeditions into Spain. He later defeated the Saxons and carried his arms into Bohemia, Bavaria, and Hungary. The Frankish dominion now comprised the whole of France, and most of Germany and Austria.

Great as a warrior, Charlemagne was even greater as an administrator and civil ruler. He divided the empire systematically, placing each division under military, judicial, and civil authority. A real, but short, renaissance of learning took place in the Frankish kingdom. Charlemagne died January 23, 814.
